*Each of us has the freedom to discard the ideas of yesterday substituting, sometimes,
the philosophy of today.
Today is now, but
TOMORROW IS FOREVER
Tomorrow we will be older, more mature and intelligent.
Can we answer tomorrow for the prejudices, hypocrisy and dissent of today?*

Why Apathy? Why Not Involvement?

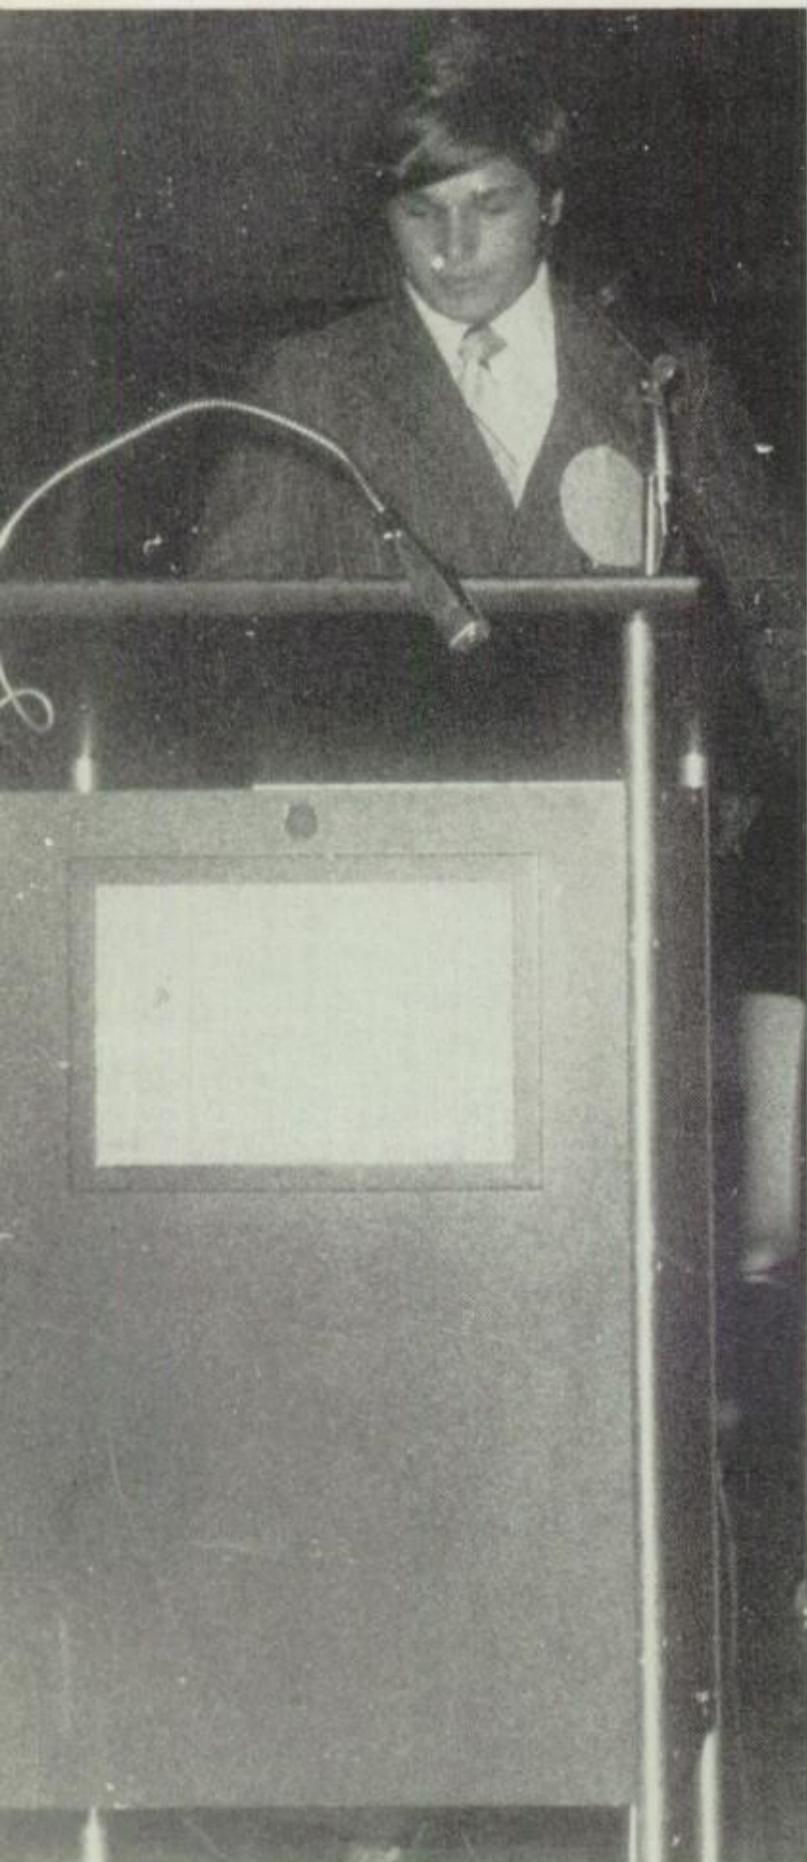

Thoughts lead on to purposes,
Purposes go forth in action,
Actions form habits,
Habits decide character,
And character fixes destiny!

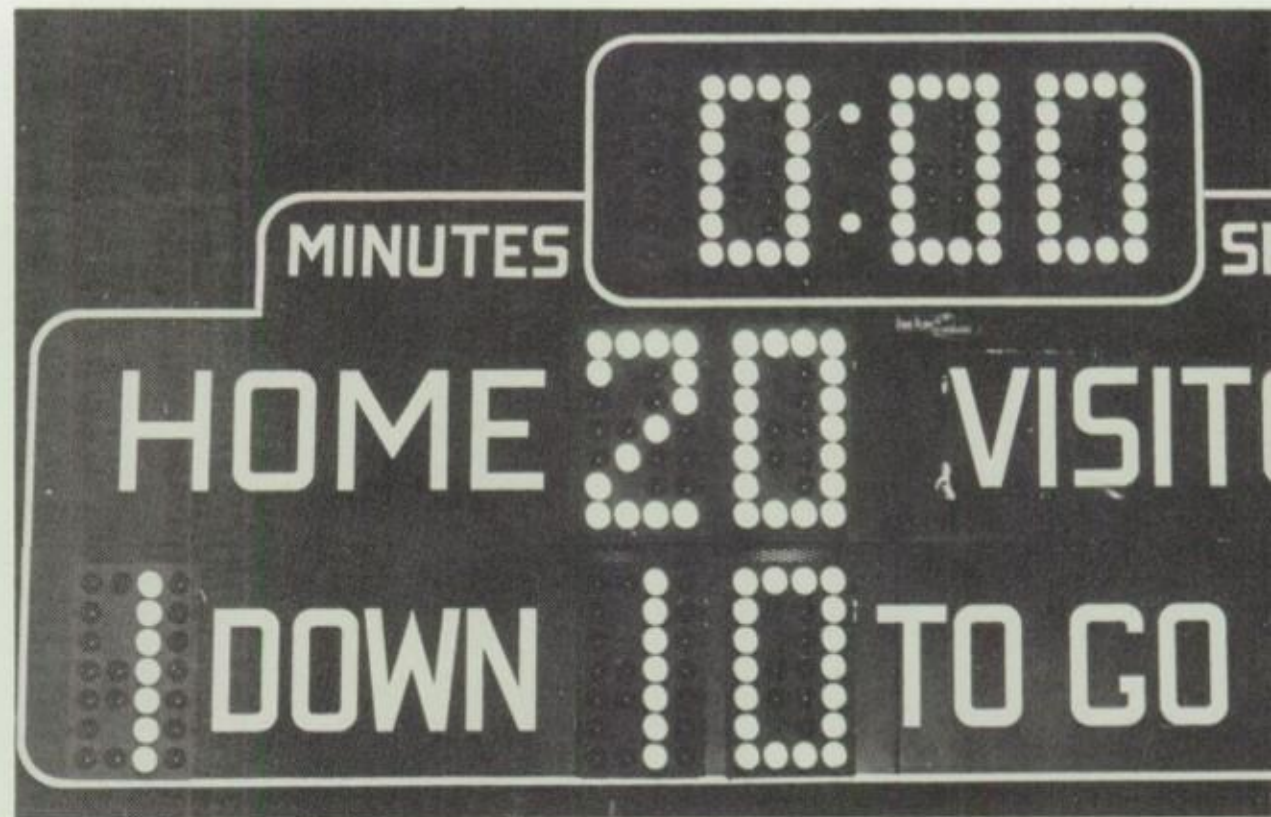

Watch . . .

We shall someday be men,
and we will call a world ours.
A world of tomorrow built on the dreams of yesterday.
We,
the children gone by—
We have laughed and dreamed,
smiled,
loved.

Why Hate? Why Not Peace?

Shall we not learn from life,
its laws, dynamics, and balances?
Learn to base our needs
not on death, destruction, waste, but on renewal?
In wisdom and in gentleness
learn to walk with Eden's Angels?
Learn at last to shape a civilization in harmony with the earth?

Africa Proves A Successful Setting For Prom

Through the mist on April 29, the juniors, seniors, and their dates along with the faculty members and guests arrived to enjoy an evening at the Tanganyikan Hideaway. A delightful Polynesian banquet was served to start the festive evening. The senior wills were read, and the juniors read their prophecy of what the future held for we seniors.

The couples then entered the mysterious Tanganyikan Hideaway. They first walked through an animal-filled junglewalk, then into an ancient cave and into a friendly native village. Music was provided by the Gremlins, and dancing continued until midnight. The couples then proceeded to the Logansport State Theater to see a movie and on to Myers' Lanes for bowling and breakfast.

Just at dawn all tired but happy couples made their way home with the memories of the 1972 prom lingering sweetly in their sleepy heads.

Standing . . .

at the end of a road is a difficult place to be. Sometimes it is nearly impossible to make sense out of where one has been, much less out of where one is going. The signposts erected by those who have already traveled the same roads are occasionally obscured by the dust of time, and others have been blown down by the storms of time, but all one can do is wipe away the dust or build new signs. Where there is no path, one must beat a new one—leading on to the ideals, the dreams of youth. United under the banner of brotherhood and love, young people take their place as the new leaders to steer the world in new directions.

Tears, Satisfaction And Success Marked Camelot!

Hear ye! Hear ye! For never shall we forget the tremendous acting of King Arthur, Guenevere, and Lancelot. Relived were the days of the Knights of the Round Table, with all of the glamorous trimmings. The play revolved around a tragic love triangle. Terrible and sad was the seeming destruction of the renowned ideals of the Round Table. As always, youth once again kept the destruction from becoming a dead legend. The symbol of youth was Tom of Warwick. There is one part in the play which summarizes the entire theme. This is an example of the important role our youth play in tomorrow's future.

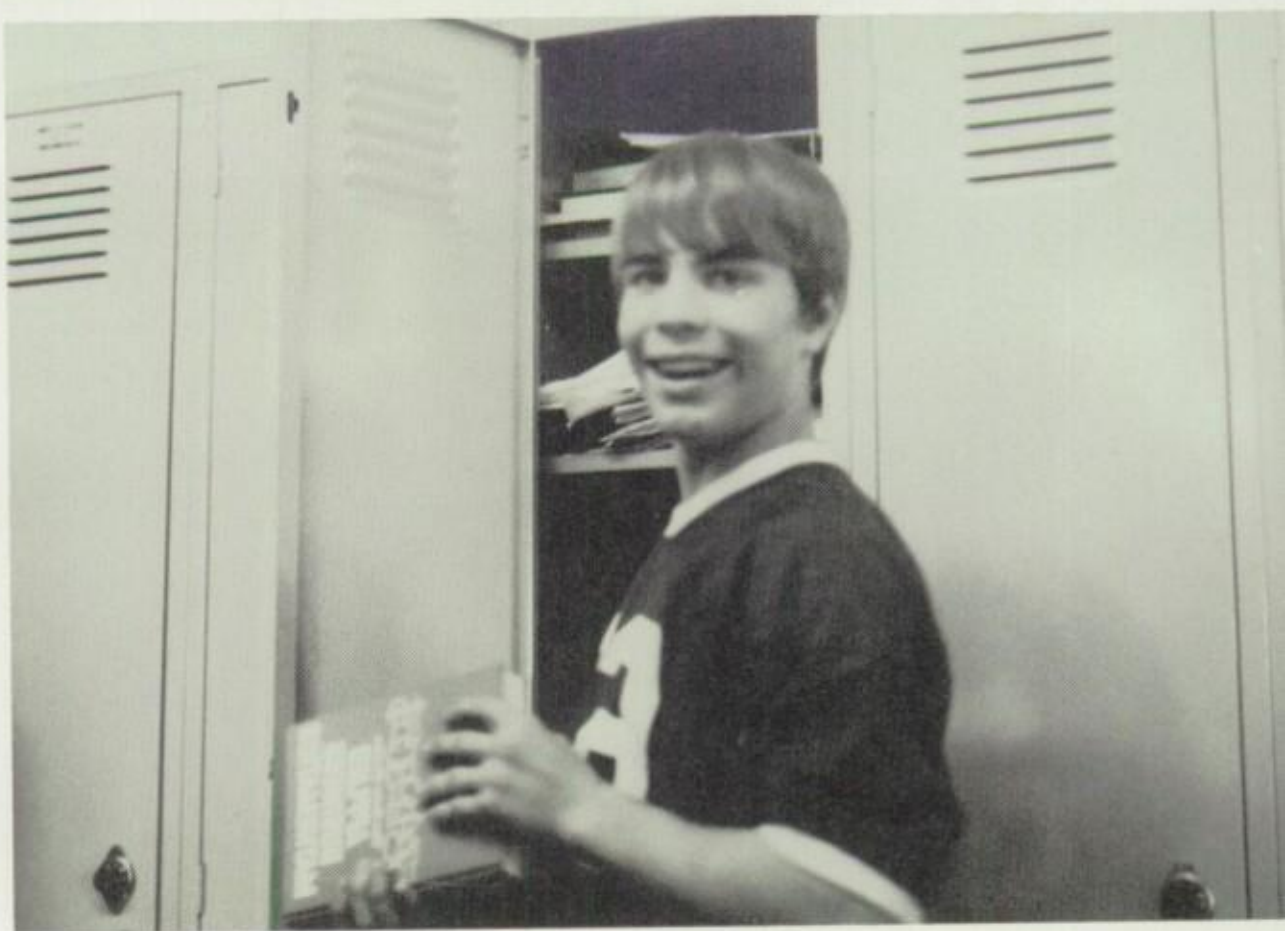

"One of what we all are, Pelly, less than a drop in the great blue motion of the sunlit sea. But it seems some of the drops sparkle, Pelly. Some of them do sparkle!"

Life is People Living . . .

Life is people living—
How far-reaching is their sky?
Through tides we peer fathoms under Forever striving, seeking stainless truth.
We tried many pathways
To define one word—Life.

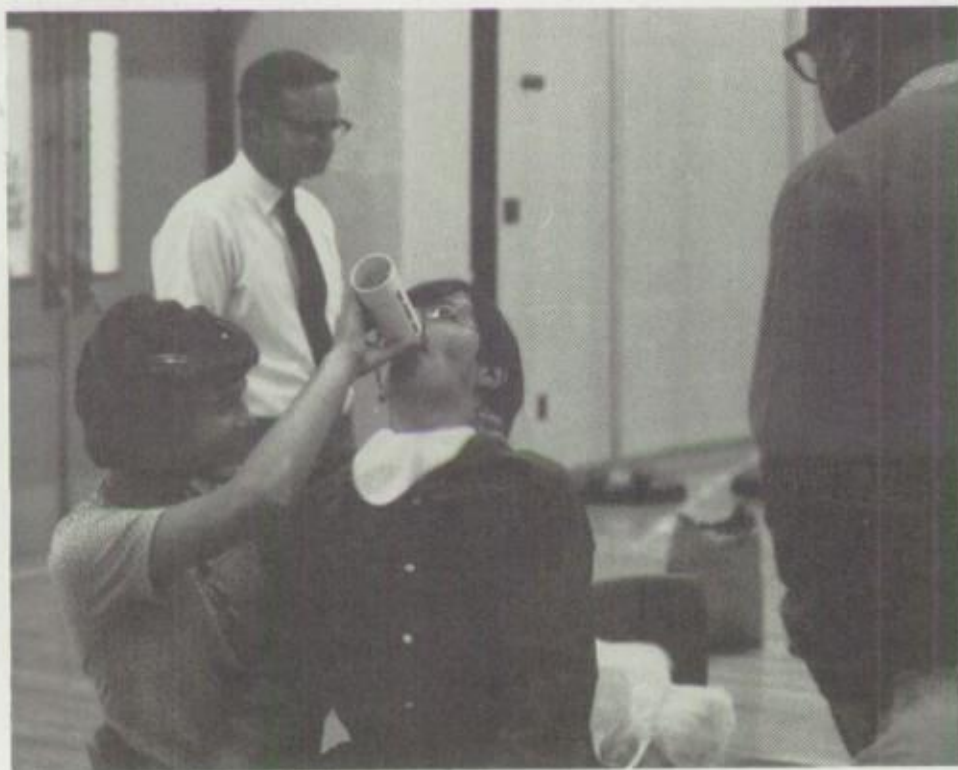

Take It Or Leave It!

"You are the fellow that has to decide Whether you'll do it or toss it aside
You are the fellow who makes up your mind
Whether you'll lead or will linger behind—

Whether you'll try for the goal that's afar
Or be contented to stay where you are Take it or leave it! Here's something to do!
Just think it over. It's all up to you!"

New Festivities Dominate Homecoming Week

Homecoming week started off with a series of events with each class competing for first place. Points were given for the placings won by the class in each event. At the beginning of the week volleyball, co-ed softball, and cageball were played. A powder-puff football game, with a picnic and bonfire, afterwards was also held. On the day of the game, a chowhound relay, baby-bottle relay, and a bathtub stuff were all part of the activities.

Homecoming was new and different and enjoyed by all. The seniors won the final prize, the spirit jug, during the halftime of the game. Also during this time Cheryl Zartman was crowned homecoming queen for the season.

A Comedy Is Brought Back To Caston After Several Dramas

Pillow Talk was presented as a three-act comedy on the nights of November 10 and 11. The main characters were portrayed by Randy Pressel and Cheryl Zartman who were helped by a very efficient cast. The stage managers, Dick Fincher and Chuck Hubenthal, also played an important role in the outcome of the play.

This amusing love story was about a song writer and an interior decorator who shared the same party line. The girl was always complaining because the young composer was always on the phone singing love songs to a variety of girls. After a series of mishaps the two finally got together and straightened things out.

Pillow Talk was enjoyed greatly both by the cast itself and also the many people who watched it.

Meeting the world that Shall confront us.

Languages Bring Insight

With the goal of being able to use and understand the foreign languages to the highest degree, the students always strived for perfection.

Reading, writing and speaking constituted the three main concepts of the two foreign languages taught at C.H.S. Students had their choice of two languages in which to pursue their study, French and German.

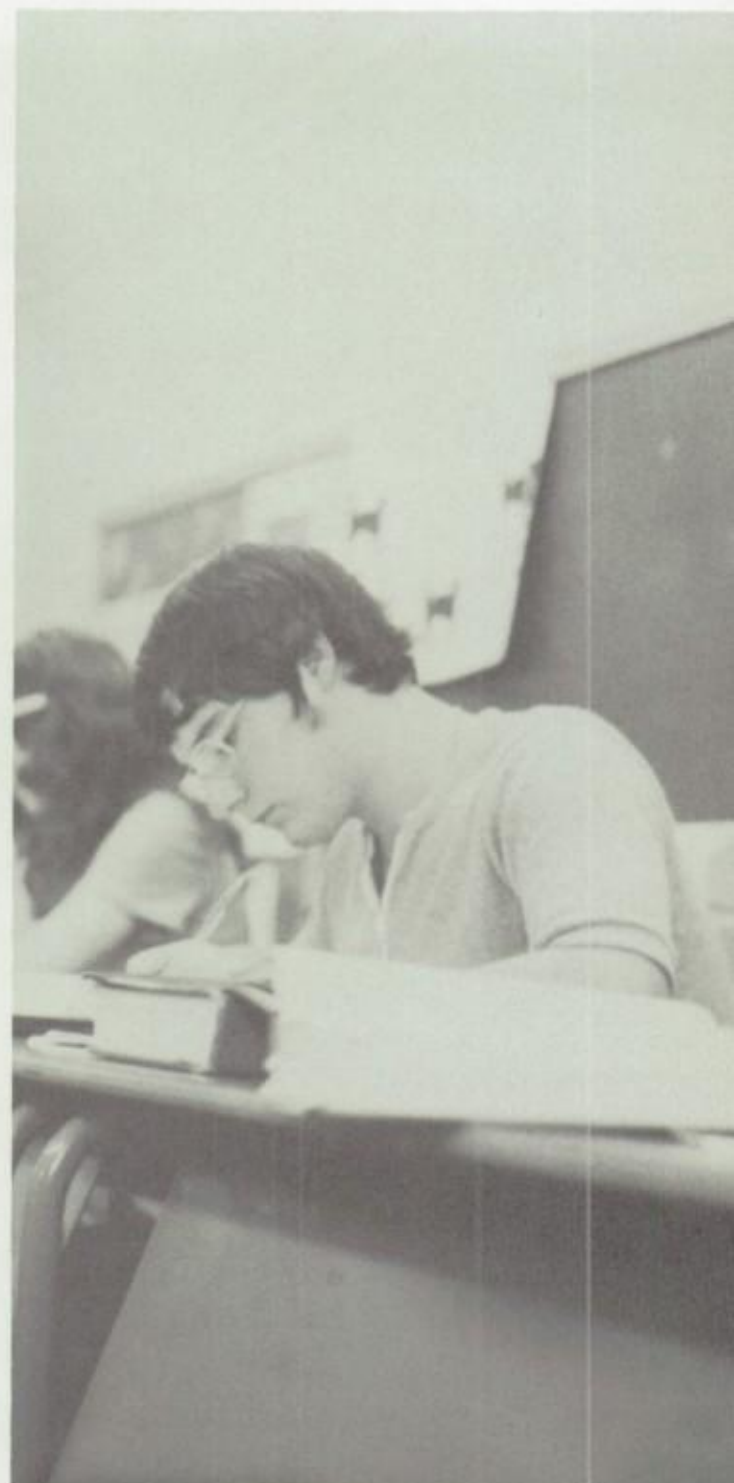

Seniors enjoyed Canterbury Tales; and Edgar Allen Poe brought culture to all literature classes.

Moving Upward

Reduction of stomach butterflies and quivering voices was among the objectives of speech class. Miss Dillon attempted to instill confidence in apprehensive underclassmen in this course. While the speech classes were using their mouths, the business classes were skillfully using their nimble fingers. The continual clicking of typewriters in carpeted chambers and huge piles of paper billowing forth with columns of numbers from adding machines indicated the business courses. Typing courses convinced students that the old age "hunt and peck" system is strictly "for the birds".

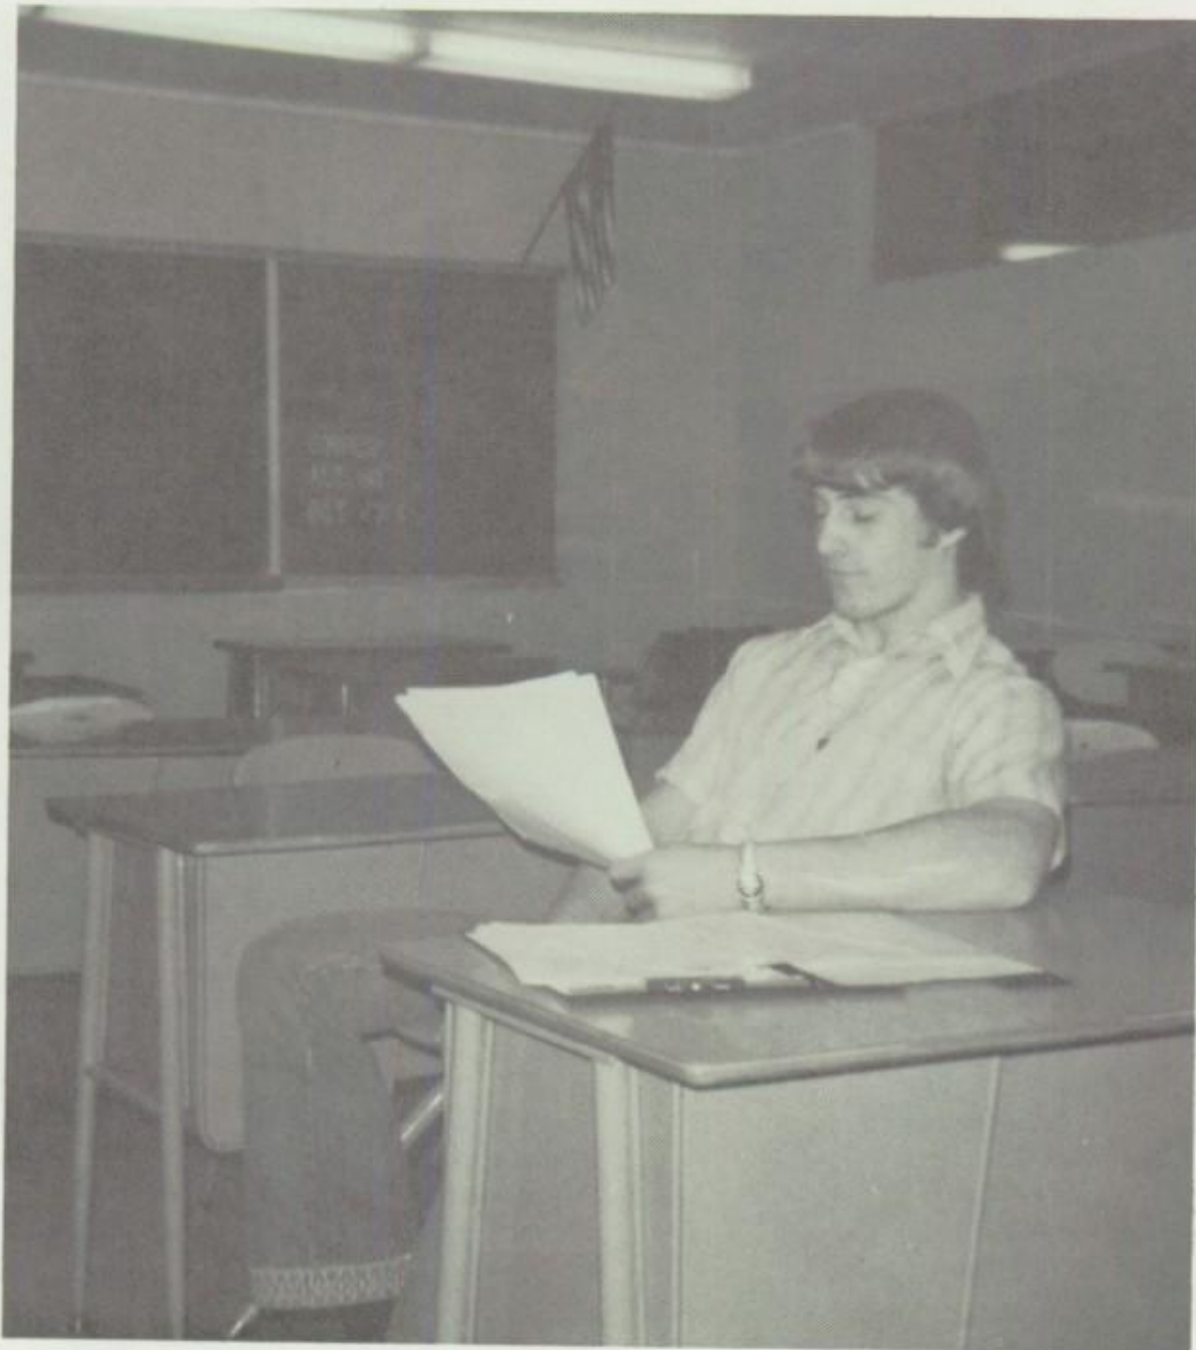

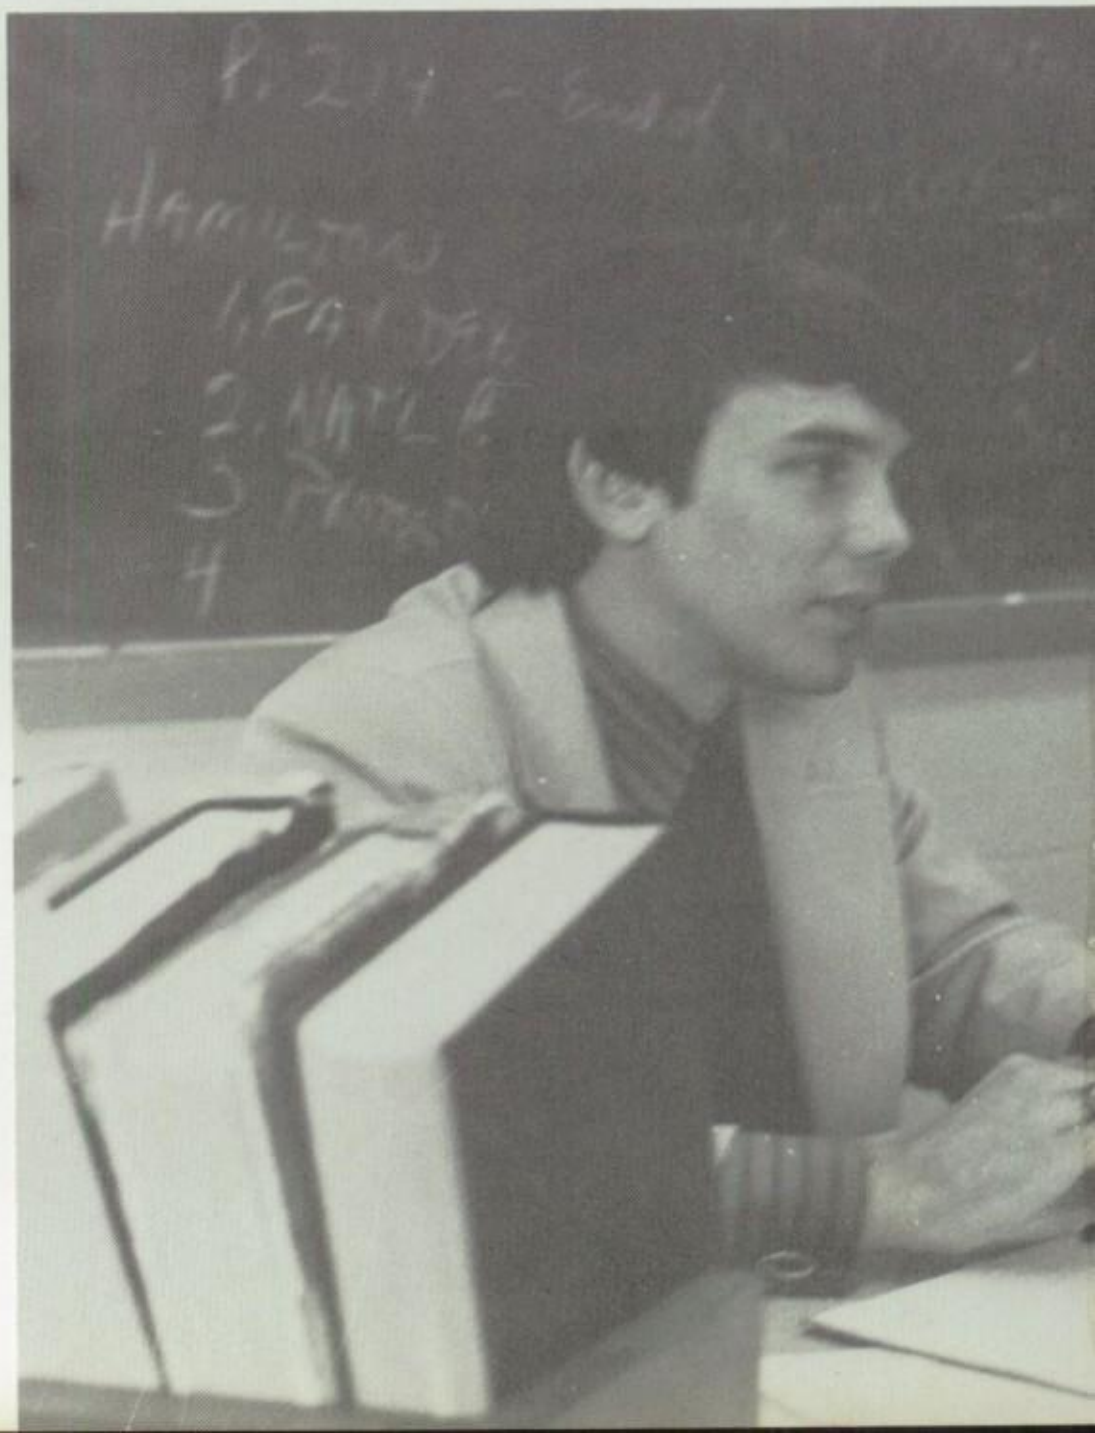

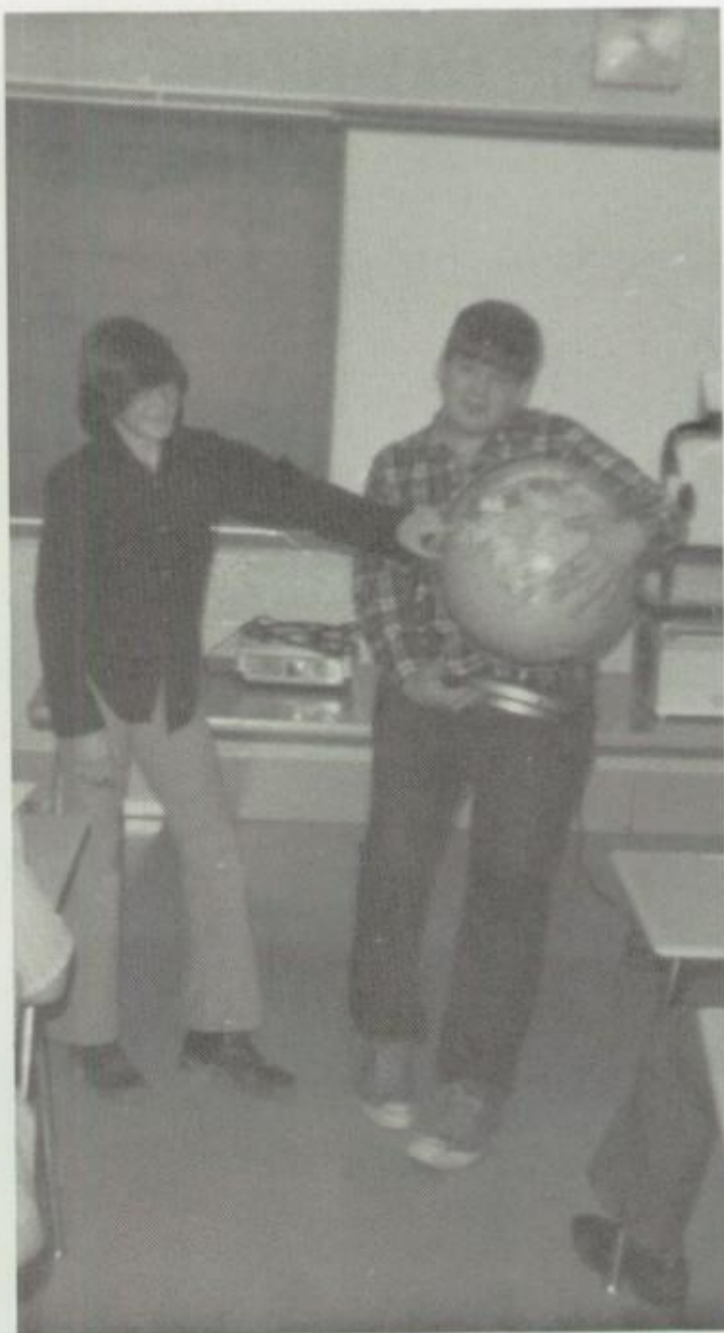

Science And Mathematics Opens Door To World Of Technology

Confusion and panic struck as students tried to separate and retain jumbled formulas, complex equations, theorems, assumptions, postulates, logarithms, and graphs. First year algebra and geometry classes were stressing the implications of logical and reasonable thinking.

Using the scientific method, chemistry students observed and studied proportions of different elements. Newton's Laws of Motion and kinetic and potential energy were taught by demonstrations, laboratory work, recitation, and class lectures.

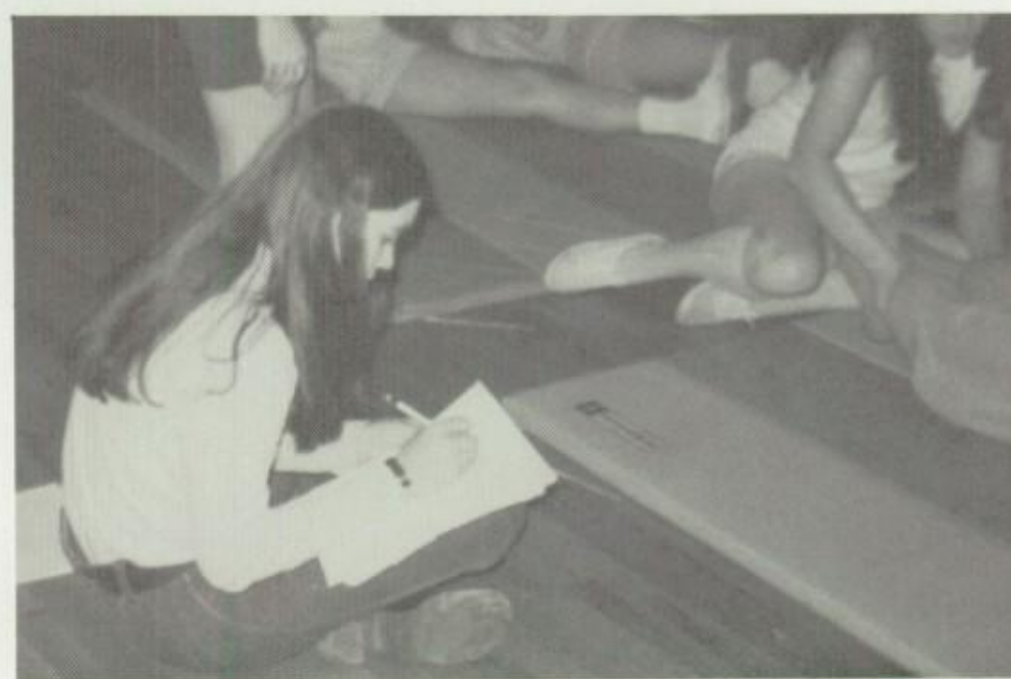

Solutions For The Modern Problems

Whether learning of Columbus' voyage to the New World or of Neil Armstrong's journey to the moon, social studies classes used past events to predict solutions for the contemporary problems.

Research papers, seminars, panel discussions, and group endeavors were the major projects of government.

Students Learn To Be Their Own Individual

Body coordination and proper care were the main goals sought for in the health and physical education classes.

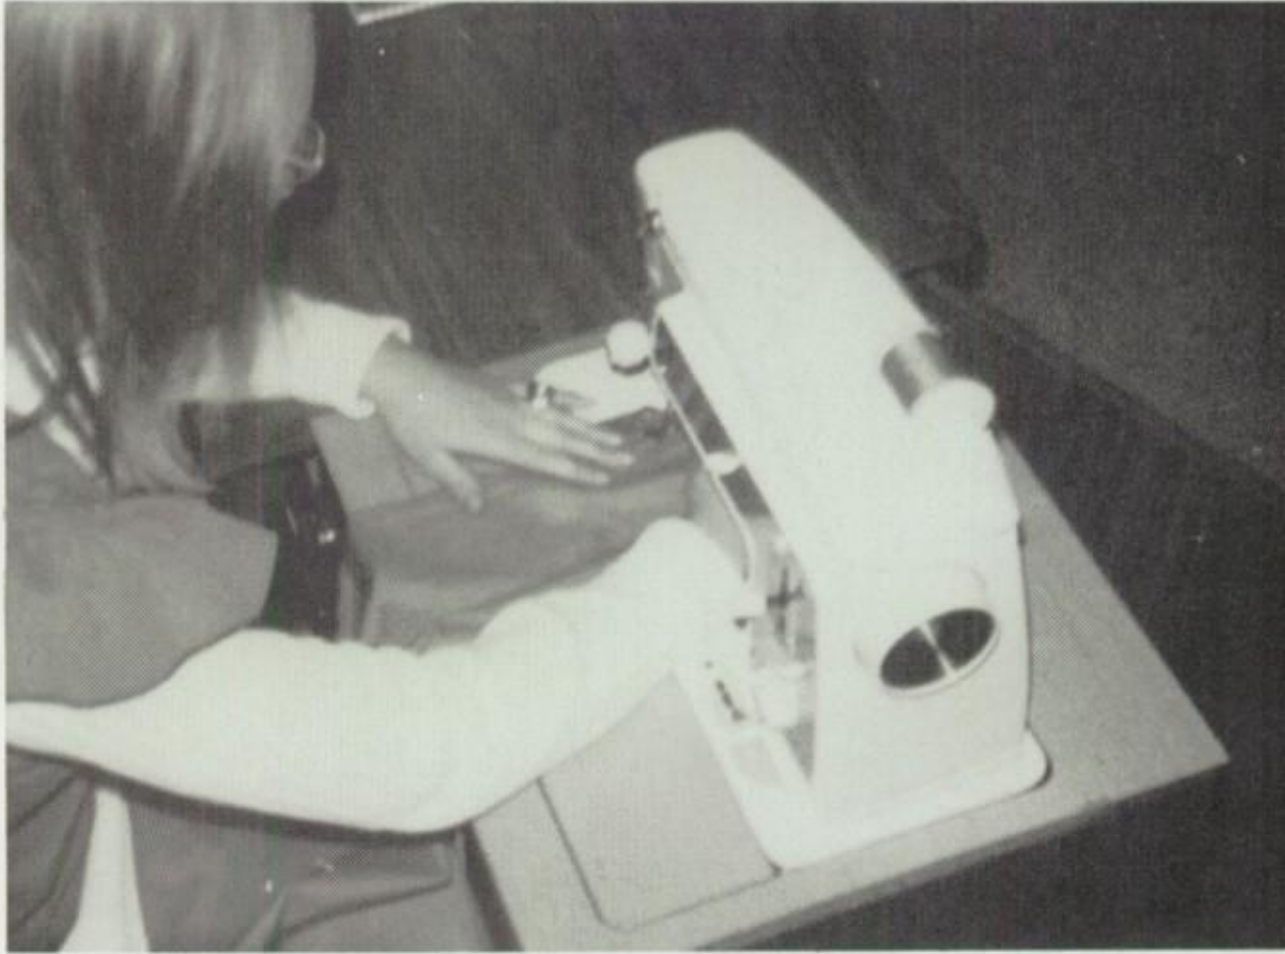

Health students were given the chance to look at the health professions. Knowledge of the bones, organs, and diets were among the curriculum studied throughout the year.

In the physical education classes each student learned to become involved and be their own individual. Teamwork was stressed at all times. They learned to work together through the friendship and concern of each other in order to be a success.

Home Ec. Students Learn New Fundamentals

The home economics department again taught several students many skills needed in modern life. Along with sewing and cooking sessions, many other areas were covered. The junior girls made plans for the building and furnishing of their dream houses. Making a scrapbook and estimating the cost of their wedding were the senior girls' projects. Another year of senior boys' home economics was offered in which many participated. Several field trips were also taken by various classes throughout the year.

Modern Techniques Are Learned With The Ancient

Along with the traditional arts of painting, printing, and ceramics, many diverse areas were experimented throughout the art classes. Macramé was discovered by many high school students. Junior high students also learned a general background of art.

During the Christmas season many of the students painted scenes on windows all around the school. Also at this time the art classes tried a new idea. They opened a boutique in which the students sold some of their crafts. This proved to be very successful and is hoped to be tried again in the future.

Bottom Right: Written work is also required in the industrial arts classes.

Ind. Arts And Ag Courses Revamped

The industrial arts classes offered a wide variety of courses including power mechanics, metals, auto mechanics, drafting, woods, plastics, and electronics. Mr. Youmans and Mr. Miller have worked together throughout the school year to enable the students to exercise their use of the facilities available to them.

In their classes the students work with materials and machinery of industry. This basic material creates opportunities for exploration in many industrial areas which they might be working at in the future.

The agriculture department has been on the road this year taking tours of such places as the Smith-Douglass Fertilizer Plant, Wilson's Packing Plant, and the Dairy and Agronomy Farms at Purdue. They also attended John Deere Day at Grass Creek, the Farm Bureau Show, and participated in the Wilmington Dairy and Livestock judging contest. The ag boys study such courses as crop science and farm and livestock management. During the second semester a new course of forestry was added into the agriculture program.

The C.H.S. Marching Comets again entertained at the halftime of several football and basketball games. They also participated in the Twelve Mile "500" parade and the Veteran's Day Parade in Logansport. To raise money, the band held their annual fish fry and the flag corps scheduled a bake raffle during one of the basketball games. With this the majorettes acquired new uniforms and a new set of drums was purchased.

The concert band performed at the Christmas concert, spring concert, and graduation.

The chorus is still going strong despite the fact that there was a smaller membership. Many students had full schedules and could not take chorus as a full-time class, so Mr. Berdine again organized the reserve chorus. These students met with the regular class three times a week for most of the year. Among their performances were the Christmas concert, graduation, and they also sang at several churches.

A new organization was formed for high school girls wishing to sing. This organization, the Belles, was directed by Mrs. Hizer and Miss Warner. The Belles provided entertainment for several churches in this area. This trial year for the Belles proved to be a good one and it is hoped they will become a tradition in the following years.

Students Find New Experiences

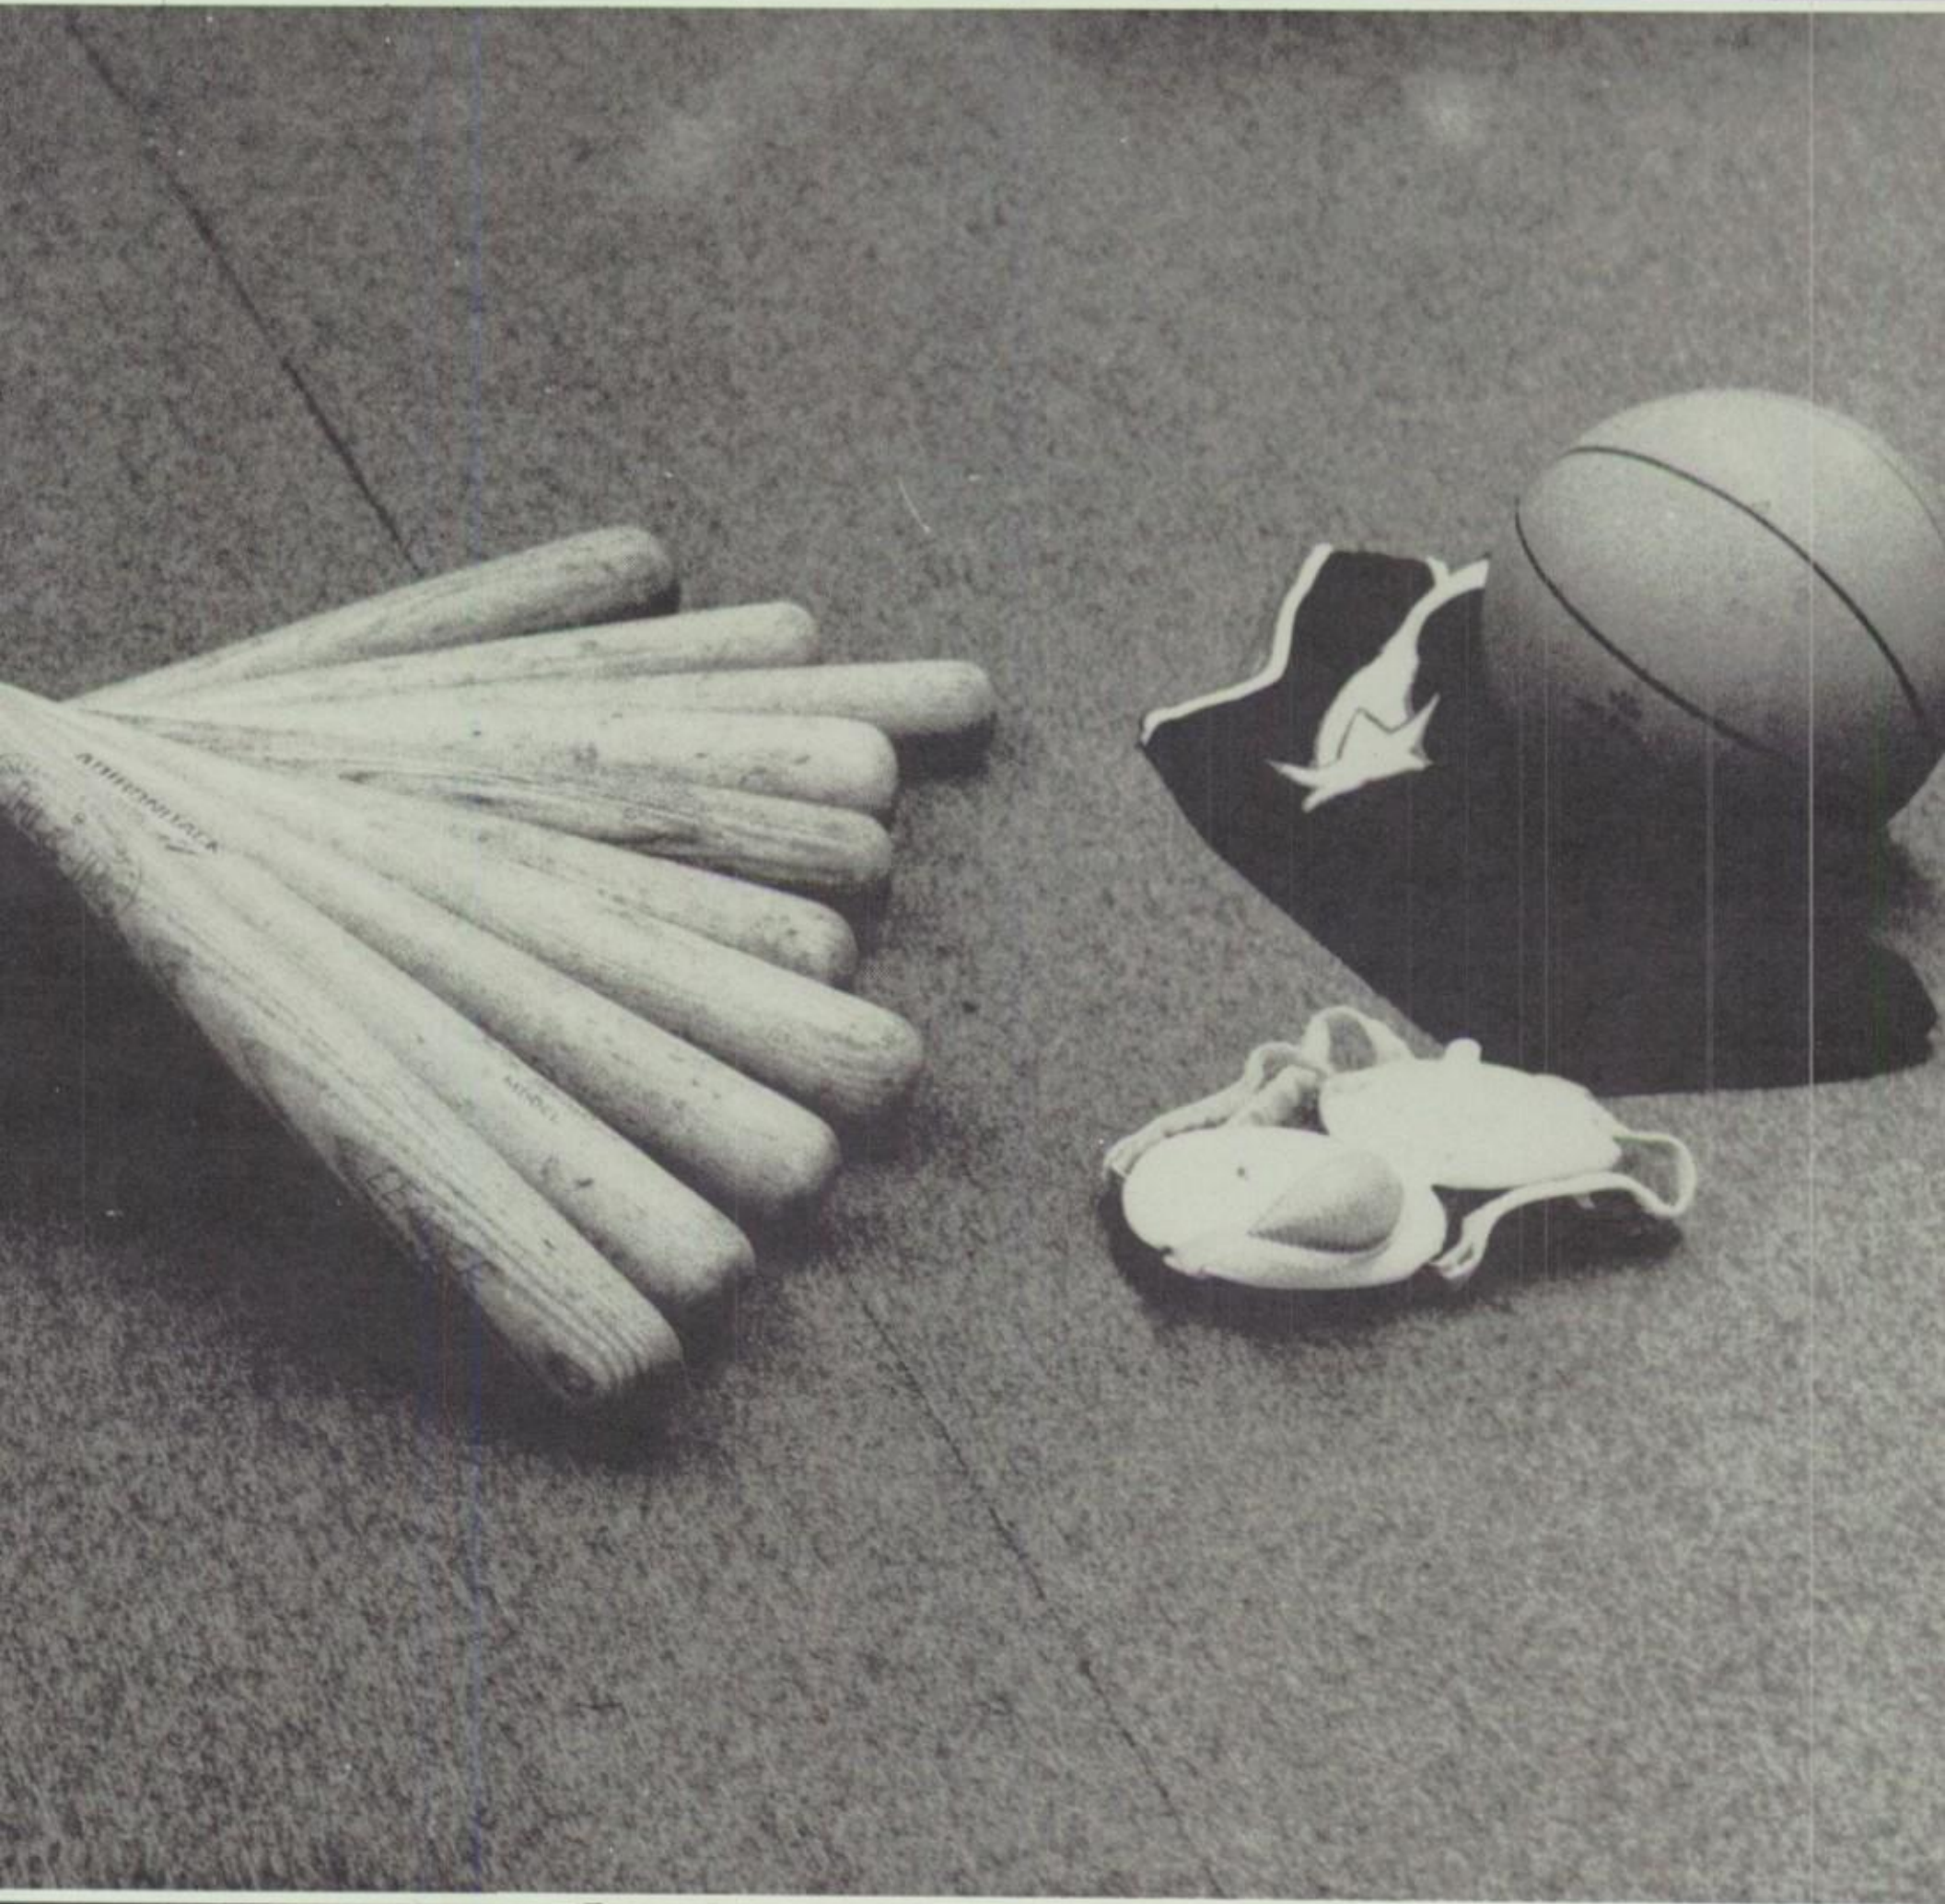

On the highways, in the ditches, running stop signs . . . driver's training again!

Mr. Jones, Mr. Mosier, and Mr. Schnepp were the instructors for the 1972 classes. The first two weeks were class room study in which several situations were explained. Tests were given over the material learned, and then it was out on the road for real driving experience. Six hours of driving were required to complete the course. Students doing well on both the classroom work and the driving were awarded waivers which allowed them to get their licenses without taking a driving test.

The Beginning Of The End

It all began on a calm, hot afternoon in August when the Caston Comets reported in for a pre-season practice. It ended some weeks later on a cold, windy night in November at the Caston stadium against the Carroll Cougars. Between these days the Comets, headed by Coach Tom Mulry, had a 1-6 record.

Underclassmen Fight Hard For Season Tally

Action blazed as the junior varsity team hit the dirt striving to reach that ultimate goal—a victory. With the running of John Hart and aerial “hijacking” of Ron Lewis, they showed that youth doesn’t always constitute inability.

Compiling a record of five wins and no losses the junior high Comets set their eyes on the future. Coach Foreman and Uhrich directed their team scoring a combination of 106 points, the key to their success was high morale.

1st row: M. Wray, K. Walsh, B. Kelley, D. Harris, S. Douglass, J. Gundrum, G. Arnold, T. Litz, T. Maroney, J. Field, R. Rhodes, J. Smith, G. Van Matre. 2nd row: D. Skinner, L. Rentschler, M. Long, C. Davis, C. Thomas, D. Herold, D. Vinson, W. Bunker, B. Tam, P. Powlen, L. Eytcheson, T. Hattery.

3rd row: Coach Uhrich, A. Paschen, K. Sullivan, D. Towne, T. Bruce, W. Burton, D. Musselman, S. Hensley, J. Freels, G. Gearhart, J. Swanson, Coach Foreman.

Cross Country Loses Only One Letterman

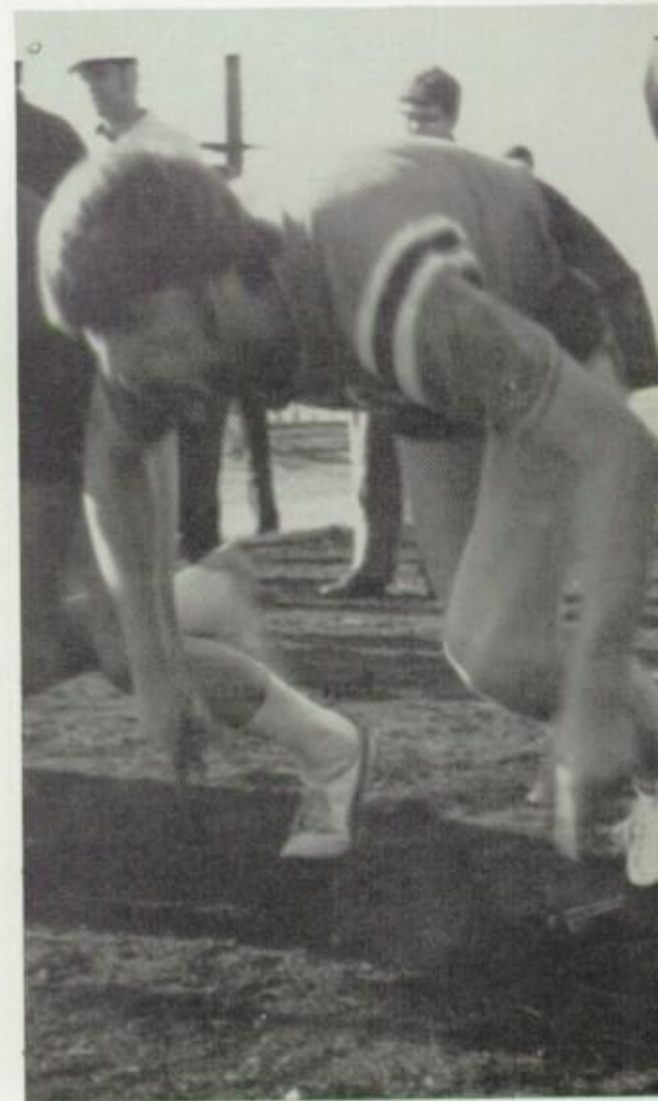

During the season the Comets improved greatly and placed better than ever in all their meets. Dave Sommers led the pack over the finish line in every race with Jerry Dague coming in with a close second. Only one senior letterman, Ron Simmons, will be leaving the squad. With all the new and returning members, next year should prove to be even better for the Comet runners.

The Wrestlers World

This is their world. Enthusiasm and excitement climbed to an intensive height during the season. Under the direction of Coach Blackburn, the team developed stamina and strength. For those who excelled in cunning, coordination, and physical strength, there were endless hours of practice. Fans urged each athlete on, thrilling at the skill and work involved. Perhaps they realized that learning to overcome competition would be important tomorrow. A feeling of triumph arose when Dick Shaw came to the mat. Robbie Robbins, an outstanding senior wrestler, proved his ability to overcome obstacles of human strength.

Comets Share Conference Title

Marking the season for the Comets was being co-champions of the conference. The team worked endlessly on improving defensive and offensive plays with the aid of Coach Mike Kurtz. Playing their final season were seniors Ken Eytcheson, Dick Fincher, Mick Herrold, and Ron Simmons. Several underclassmen will be returning with much potential for future years.

Improving with every game, the junior varsity team ended the year with a greatly improved record from the previous year.

During the junior varsity tourney, Caston placed first over Lewis Cass, North Miami, and Pioneer.

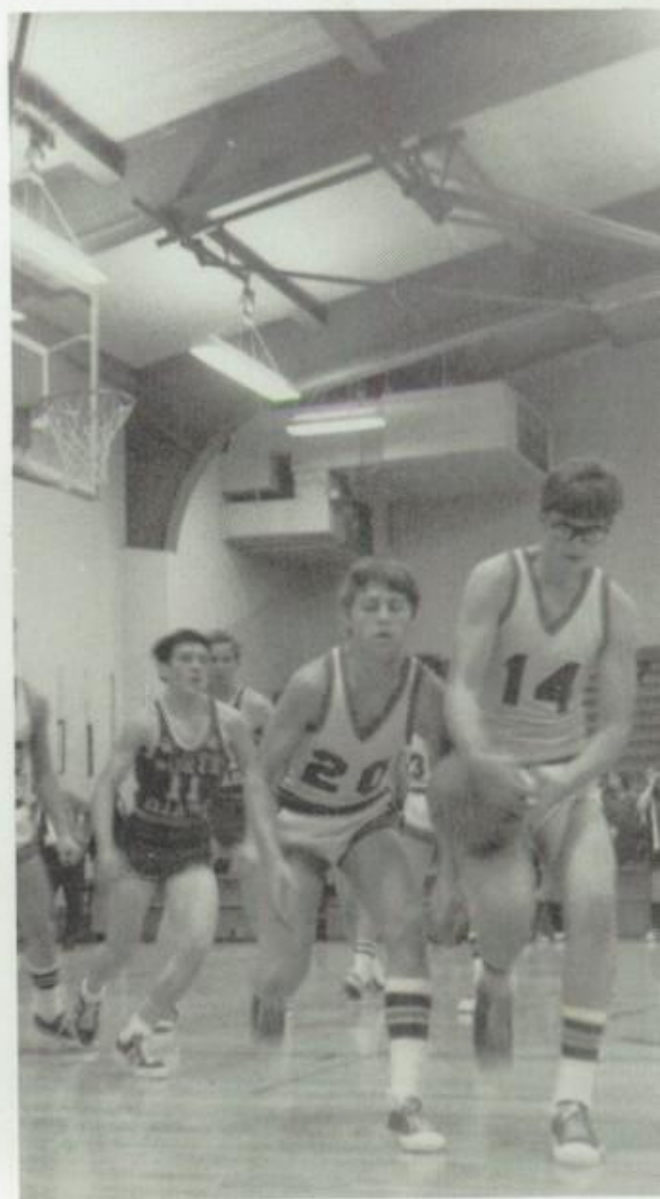

The freshman team was the most successful in several seasons. The team members were declared the undefeated champs in the Three Rivers Conference.

Junior High Gains Experience For Future Years

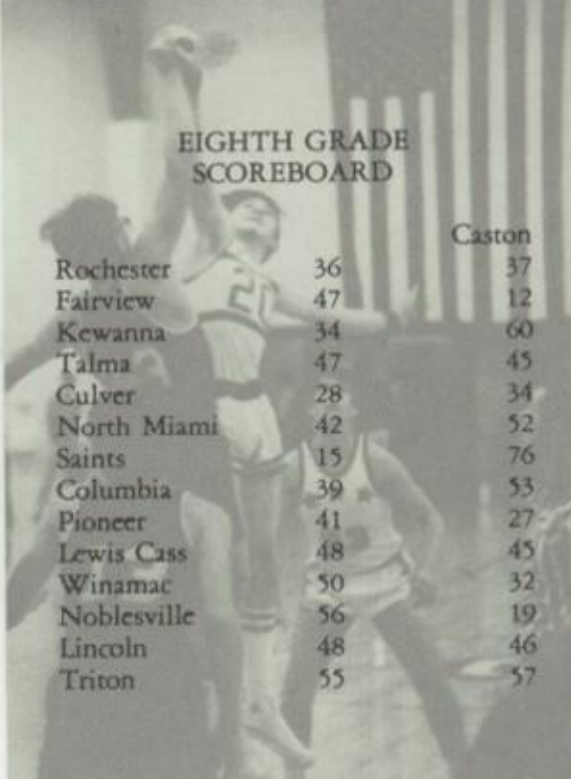

Congratulations, seventh grade, on a winning season! A new schedule made it tougher to settle down to business, but this team, coached by Mr. Uhrich, did and ended with a fine 9-5 record.

This year's eighth grade team was a large team with much potential. The boys gained much experience in practices as well as games.

Youth Power Pays Off For Track Men

Youth was the key which unlocked the door to success for the track team last spring.

Loaded with talented underclassmen, Coach Shuler enjoyed a worthwhile season.

Dave Sommers, a lanky junior was the top underclassman performer as he journeyed alone to break many school records.

Team Wins Two Conference Games

The Caston baseball team had a busy schedule this year, stretching over spring and summer. There were a total of 19 games in which the varsity players competed. Two seniors, Pat Bechdol and John Wray, participated throughout the entire season.

Working together the team won five games, two of which were conference meets.

1st row: Coach Matanich, P. Hart, J. Berry, C. Williams, T. Strasser, M. Grable, N. Douglass, A. Morrow, T. Hudkins. 2nd row: J. Hart, N. Maudlin, P. Bechdol, B. Tam, R. Simmons, M. Skinner, W. Lease, R. Gearhart.

Golf Team Starts Second Varsity Year

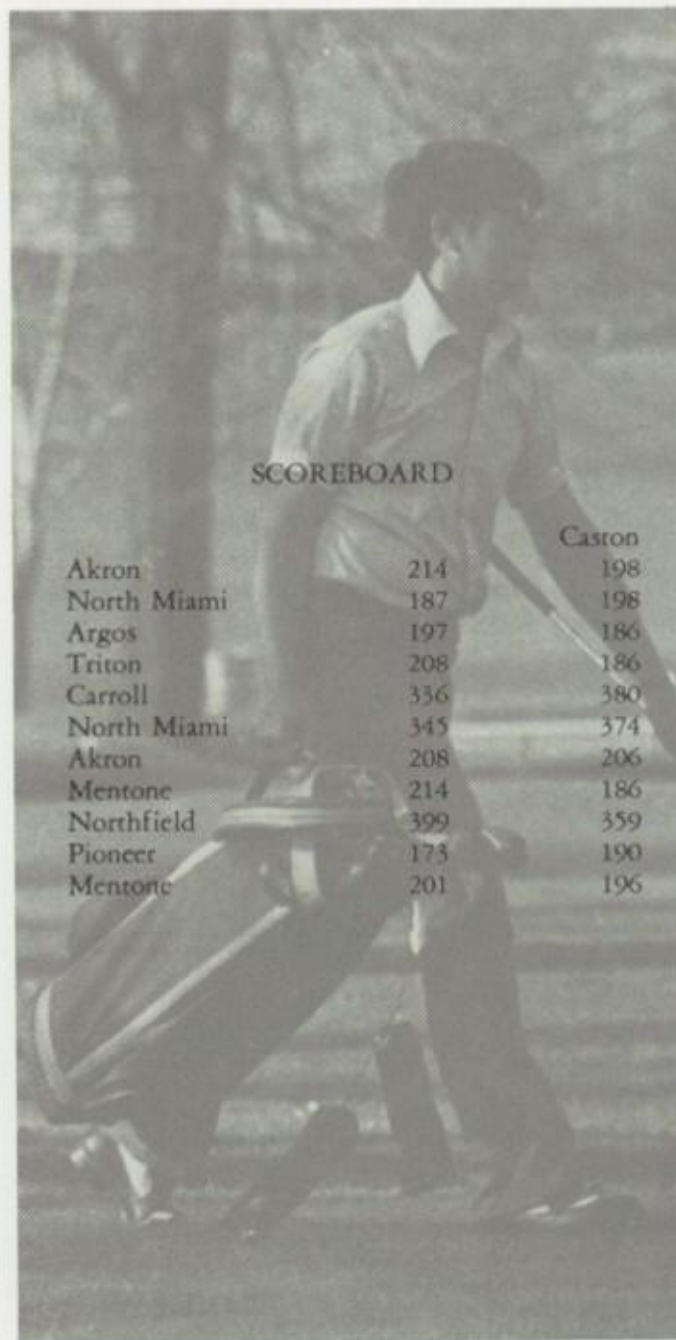

The Caston Golfing Comets finished their golf season with a 7-4 record, not including their 14th place finish in the sectional.

Senior John Wray led the golfing Comets being the most consistent shooter on the links, while Jeff Lewis, Keith Beck, and Mark St. Clair showed tremendous improvement throughout the season. Jeff Lewis, being only a sophomore, looks to be the most promising golfer in Caston's short history of golf.

The Caston team capped off the season with a third place finish in the conference; however, we'll be returning with only three letter winners.

Dedication Vital To Varsity Cheerleaders

Five enthusiastic Comets led the student body in cheering and supporting the teams. Always bubbling, always smiling, the varsity cheerleaders induced everyone to yell.

Energy and dedication were vital to the cheerleaders as they practiced mounts, cheers, formations, and stunts. After school there were often signs to paint and hang in the halls. Skits and cheers had to be created and arranged for pep sessions. Problems and anxieties often arose, but Mrs. Herrold, sponsor, was always ready to suggest a solution and calm nerves.

Skill, Hard Work Demanded Of Staffs

"Rewrite this copy and this time do it right," frequently rang out through room 200 during each yearbook deadline.

Editors and staff members spent many hours working on the publications. Meeting deadlines proved to be a difficult task and many students stayed after school to finish assignments.

Work on this year's yearbook really began this summer. The staff editors attended Northwood Institute.

This year's theme was "Tomorrow Is Forever."

Journalists Combine Skill, Creativity

Rushing to meet the ever present presstime deadlines, the COMMENTS staff members produced current issues of the bi-weekly student newspaper.

Student interest in the paper increased due, in part, to lively letters to the editor and debatable opinion columns.

Typing II classes enabled the staff to be assured of an excellently typed and efficiently printed newspaper.

Fascinated by the faraway places, language students worked to bring the atmosphere of their country closer.

The German Club combined with the French Club for foreign foods night. They also traveled to South Bend to the Hans House for a German meal.

The French Club held their annual Mardi Gras celebration, which they combined with the German Club Fasching party.

Musicians Join In "Motion and Commotion"

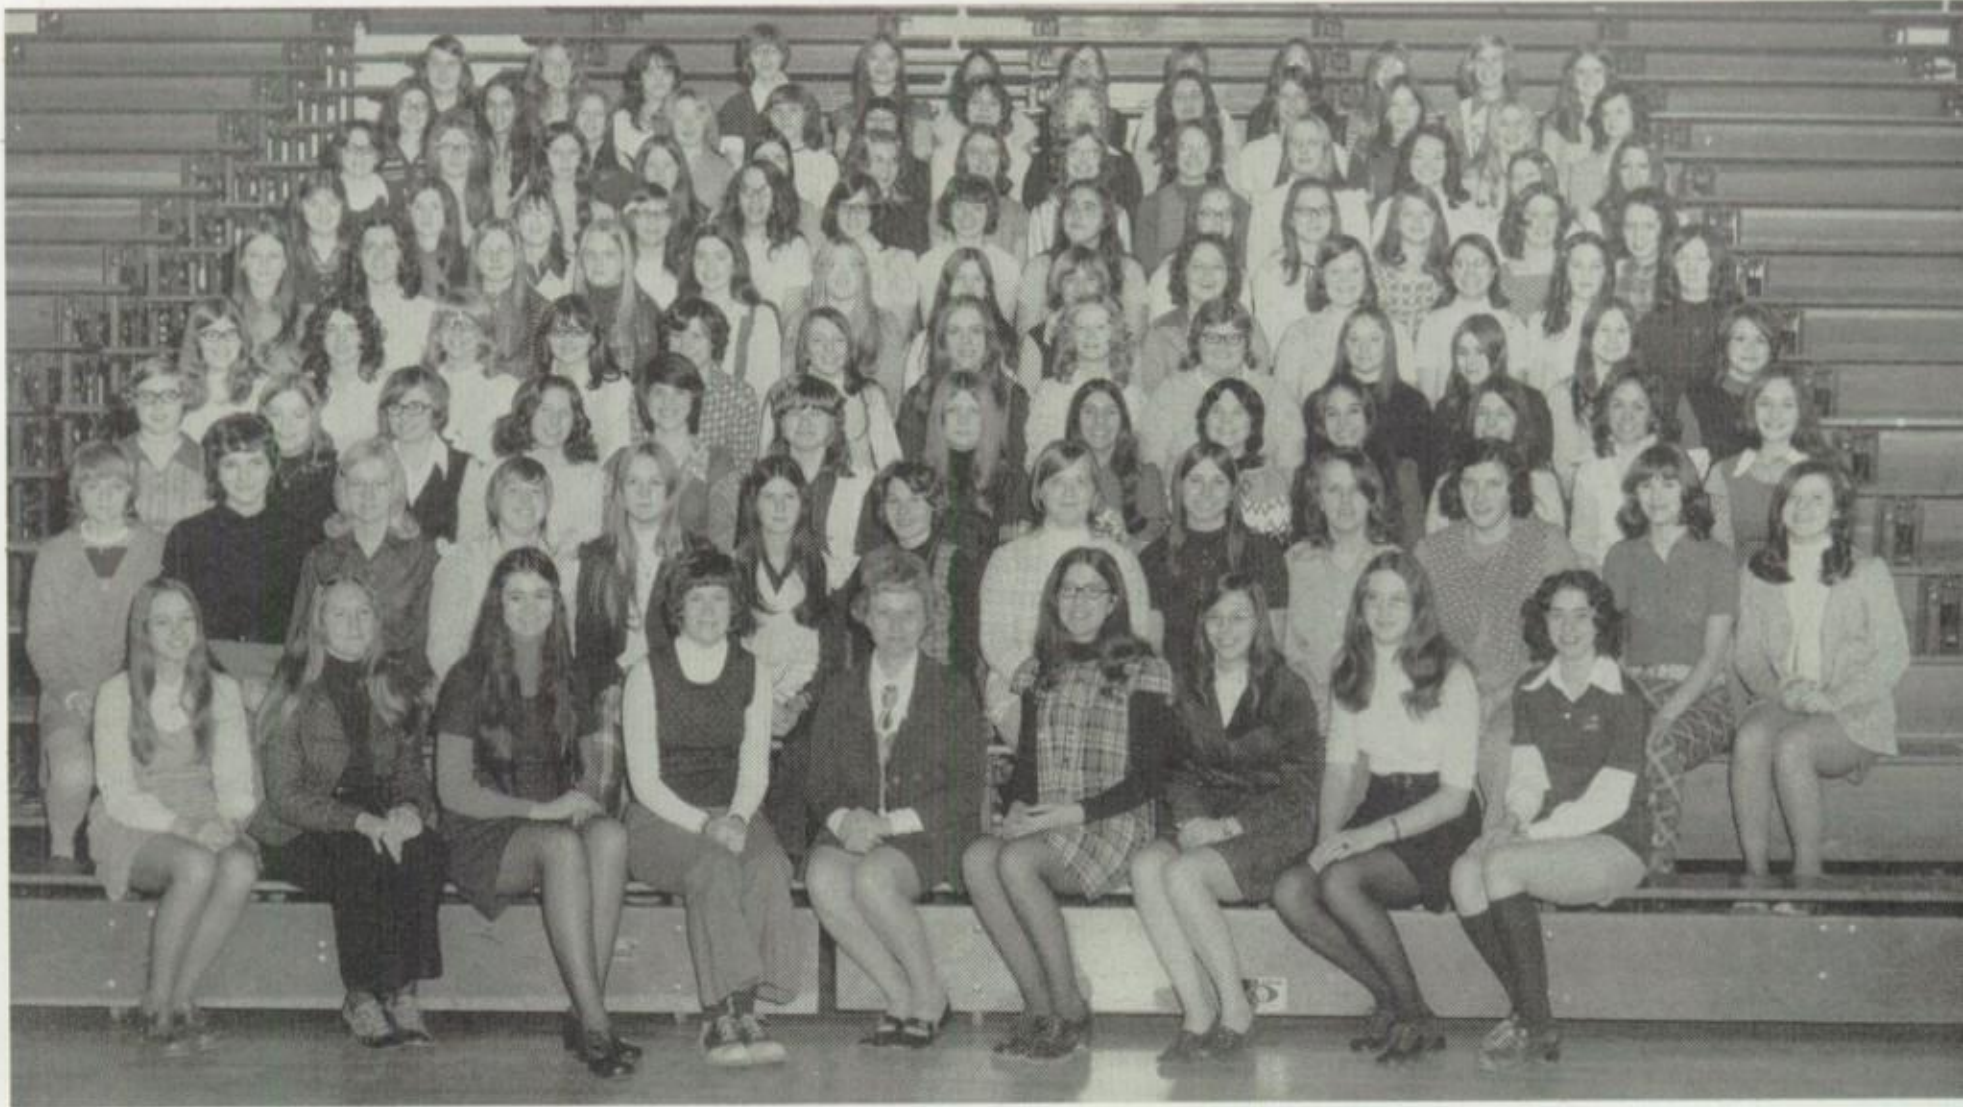

Clad in red, white, and blue, the Swing Choir showed their true dedication for school and America.

Making a December 25th and Easter appearance on WSBT-TV, the group sang a variety of Christmas and Easter songs.

Entertaining people is their business and although much time and work is involved, they love the rewards which they receive.

Youth—Light Of The Future

The Sunshine Society aided the community with many worthwhile projects.

Many times the holiday season is forgotten with the replacement of commercialized spirit, instead of the true meaning. The girls never forgot their vows of helping to make their society a better place in which to live by treating the senior citizens.

FFA Uses Rural Theme

Whatever happened to the old home place? The place where your grandfather raised prized winning animals. Or maybe you remember the sound of rain pounding against a tin roof with a gentle, rhythmic thud.

Under the leadership of Mr. Martin, the club was active in basketball games and money-making projects. For funds, the group sold pop corn.

Togetherness Pushes Spirit Forward

Organizing the cheerblock was considerably changed from past years. To become a member, high school and junior high students had to apply for their positions. The cheerleaders then determined who would be in the cheerblock from applications.

After the members were chosen, they then decided on the outfits they would wear during the games. Booster pins were also worn to complete their outfits. The cheerblock's immense spirit and good sportsmanship was shown throughout the entire year.

Contributing to the yelling and chanting was the Lettermen's Club. This club consisted of high school boys who had earned letters in at least two sports. Many of the senior members were awarded their letter jackets and several underclassmen received letters.

New Ideas For Homecoming Week

The Student Council sponsored Homecoming week again at CHS. They had a week full of activities at school. Each day for an hour, all four grades plus seventh and eighth competed against each other in various races and games. They had a powder-puff football game and bonfire to help round out the week.

For the second time Mark Rodriguez was elected student body president. This was the first time someone has been elected to this office for a second term.

The Student Council helped promote harmonious relationships between students, teachers, organizations, and classes. We hope the Student Council continues the great job they have been doing.

Coat Check Is Main Project For GAA

The GAA consisted of girls in junior high and high school interested in participating in sports outside of the regular physical education classes.

Some of the various activities during the year were volleyball, basketball, swimming, bowling, roller skating, and other recreational activities.

The girls sponsored a coat check at every home basketball game as their main money-making project. With this money, awards were bought for girls who had acquired many points over the year.

Any student wishing to be a teacher was able to join the Future Teachers of America. This organization gave actual experience in the classroom for several of the students. Seniors were allowed to use one free period towards exploratory teaching in a class they wished to learn more about.

The National Honor Society was indeed an honor to those who were admitted. Several qualities are required to become a member, among them are leadership, scholarship, and dependability.

Concessions Again Quench Hunger And Thirst

The concession workers, sponsored by Mrs. Brown, kept themselves very busy at home football and basketball games throughout the year by selling cokes, popcorn, hot dogs, candy, and coffee. Proceeds from the concessions went for various needs throughout the school. The workers consisted of mainly juniors and seniors, who during their free time popped corn and cleaned the concession stand. Food was provided not only for the varsity and junior varsity games, but also for the junior high and freshmen games.

Skill and imagination were put together to make a rewarding and profitable year for the Art Club.

The club's activities got underway with Black Night, the Halloween Dance. At Christmas, the club sponsored a Boutique with objects of pottery, jewelry, macrame, painting, and stitchery. Springtime marked the arrival of the Art Festival which was open to the public.

The junior class this year had the prom on their minds. The juniors were well over their goal on the annual magazine sales. For exceeding their goal, the juniors won a pizza party. The class seemed to enjoy themselves very much while eating pizza and playing various games. The junior sponsors this year were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith.

Sophomores Find School Quite A Tug And Pull

The sophomore class this year helped keep up school spirit at Caston. Their sponsor was Mr. Runkle.

The sophomores participated in many of the homecoming activities. They got together and built a float for homecoming and competed in the relay races, volleyball, cageball, and baseball games played at school during the week.

Goals

The freshmen class was sponsored by Mr. Wojahn. The class, in their first year of high school, got involved in many activities at school. They performed in a lot of the homecoming activities and built a very nice float. The freshmen class added a lot of spirit to the football and basketball games. We're sure the freshmen will continue the good work they do.

Eighth Graders

The eighth grade class, under the sponsorship of Mr. Uhrich, has had another successful year.

Even though they are still in junior high, they added much school spirit at Caston to help keep the football and basketball games alive.

One of the first orders of business for the class was to elect their officers. Jeff Swanson was named president, Allen Paschen was vice president, the secretary was Shane Hensley, and Nan Rentschler acted as treasurer. Dave Musselman, Joni Bookwalter, Jon Burns, and Phil Powlen made up the steering committee.

The eighth graders are sure to bring success to Caston in the following years.

The seventh grade class, sponsored by Mrs. Brunn, got a small idea of what high school life is like at Caston. A lot of the seventh graders learned that it isn't too wise to "smart off" to one of the high school bullies if they wanted to see eighth grade. All-in-all the seventh graders helped contribute spirit and happiness to Caston.

Leading the class in their first year of high school were the following class officers: Jayne Hapner was chosen as president, vice president was Tim Rentschler, David Vinson was secretary, and Kerry Walsh served as treasurer. The steering committee consisted of Lorena Carr, Chris Good, Mark Long, and Susan Zartman.

High Standards Are Set For Caston

BYRON BUNKER
Superintendent

Mr. Bunker, as superintendent, has tried to fulfill the wishes of the school board, faculty, and students. He had several duties to perform such as the payroll, purchasing, keeping personnel records, preparing a budget, selecting textbooks, and providing leadership for the entire corporation.

Mr. Bunker and the school board together aimed for the highest possible standards for our school.

Gyneth Price, Frances Ulerick

Carl Huffman, President; James A. Walsh, Secretary; Byron Bunker, Superintendent; Leroy Moss, Vice President; Glen Dean Zartman, Richard Arthur.

KENNETH HATTERY
Principal

Administration Solves Problems

Mr. Kenneth Hattery, principal at Caston, has many varied duties. The most important aspect of his many duties is formulating a program and administering the curriculum to the benefit of all students and teachers.

Mr. Hattery worked with the student body president and student council in their various activities during the year.

During his leisure time, Mr. Hattery enjoyed reading, traveling, and participating in sports.

Faculty Gives Aid To Learning Process

C. L. BERDINE could definitely be called the "music man" of Caston. He conducted both the band and the chorus along with private lessons. General music was also taught to junior high students. In his spare time, Mr. Berdine likes to read and tend his garden.

MICHAEL BLACKBURN was the history teacher for both the eighth grade and the juniors this year. He also acted as an assistant coach of football and as the wrestling coach. Traveling and athletics were listed as Mr. Blackburn's favorite hobbies.

German and journalism were the subjects taught by ELAINE BROWN. She sponsored the German Club, Caston Comments, and concessions. In her leisure time, Mrs. Brown bowls, reads, sews, and plays the piano.

The junior high English teacher was MARY BRUNN. She also sponsored the seventh grade. When at home, Mrs. Brunn sews and plays bridge.

JANIE COX was the French teacher at Caston. She also taught sophomore and senior English classes. The French Club took much of her spare time, but she also found time to sew and read many books.

The speech, physical education, and health teacher was MARGARET DILLON. As her hobbies, Miss Dillon listed tennis, swimming, sewing, and playing the piano. She also sponsored the G.A.A. program and the Drama Club.

Teaching seventh and eighth grade science takes much of TERRY FOREMAN's time, but he also squeezes in fishing, hunting, and athletics. Mr. Foreman acted as the eighth grade football and basketball coach.

Junior high home economics, health, and physical education was again taught by JANECE HERROLD. She also guided the senior boys through a semester of home economics. Mrs. Herrold was sponsor of the cheerblock and attended most of the games. In her spare time, she sews and cooks.

MIRIAM HIZER was the instructor for the typing I, shorthand, and general business classes. During her off-work hours, Mrs. Hizer enjoyed music, knitting, and reading. She also sponsored the National Honor Society.

Playing golf, watching television, and being a spectator at sports were the hobbies CHARLES JONES listed as his favorites. Mr. Jones taught freshmen and eighth grade English and driver's education. He was the golf coach and also the statistician for basketball and football games.

The high school home economics teacher was PATRICIA JONES. Mrs. Jones sponsored the Sunshine Society this year. She enjoyed cooking, sewing, gardening, and participating in sports when she was not busy with school work.

The head coach for cross country and basketball was MICHAEL KURTZ. Mr. Kurtz also sponsored the senior class. He taught government, geography, economics, psychology, and sociology. At home, Mr. Kurtz likes to do his gardening.

RONALD E. MARTIN taught agriculture, animal science, plant science, forestry, and farm management. Mr. Martin enjoys playing golf and tennis and showing cattle. In cooperation with this, he is sponsor of the F.F.A.

The power mechanics, metals, auto mechanics, and advanced power mechanical teacher was JAMES MILLER. He also teaches the eighth grade industrial classes. Mr. Miller enjoys watching and participating in tractor pulling contests.

THOMAS E. MULRY was the football and freshman basketball coach. He taught the physical education and health courses. Mr. Mulry's favorite hobbies are reading, gardening, and playing handball.

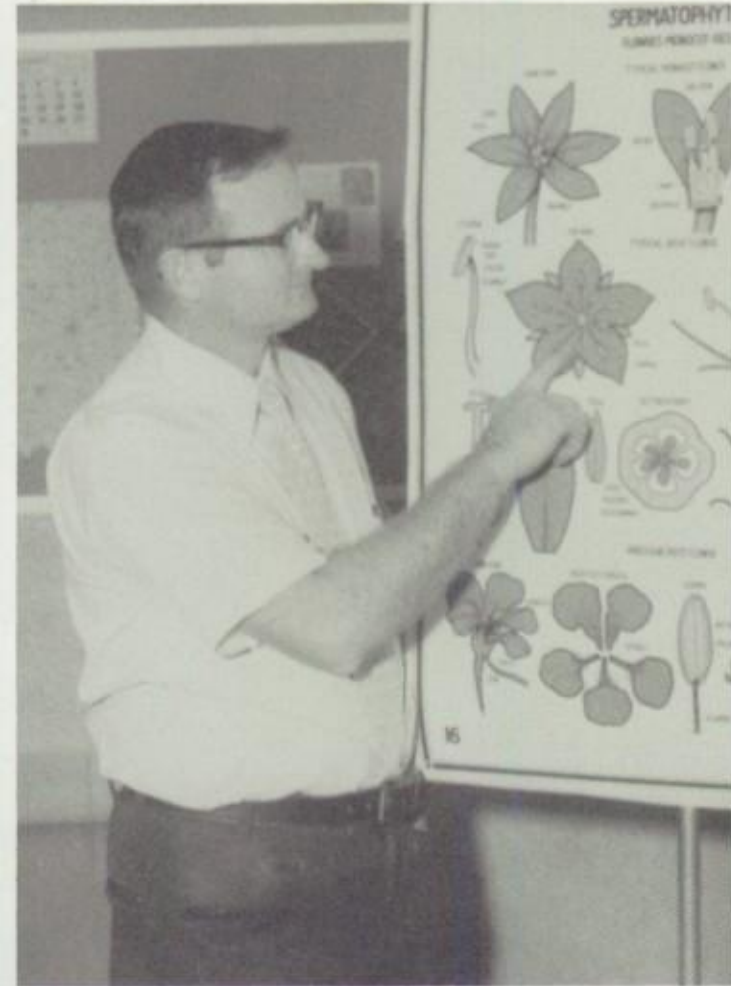

The sophomore class sponsor, CHARLES RUNKLE, taught civics, world history, and geography. Some of Mr. Runkle's favorite pastimes are reading, gardening, camping, fishing, hunting, and golfing. He is also a local Boy Scout leader.

NANCY SCHNEPP was kept busy teaching ceramics, painting, sculpture, and junior high art. She also sponsored the Art Club. At home, Mrs. Schnepp does art work, sews, plays with her pets, and likes to be in outdoor sports.

English was taught to the sophomores, juniors, and seniors by ROY SCHNEPP. Mr. Schnepp was an instructor for driver's training, too. He was track and junior varsity basketball coach and an assistant football coach. He likes to read and participate in all sports when possible.

The Name Of The Game— Responsibility

HOMER SMITH instructed students in physical science, biology, and chemistry. When he can, Mr. Smith enjoys farming, swimming, ice skating, and traveling. Mr. Smith aided the junior class throughout the year.

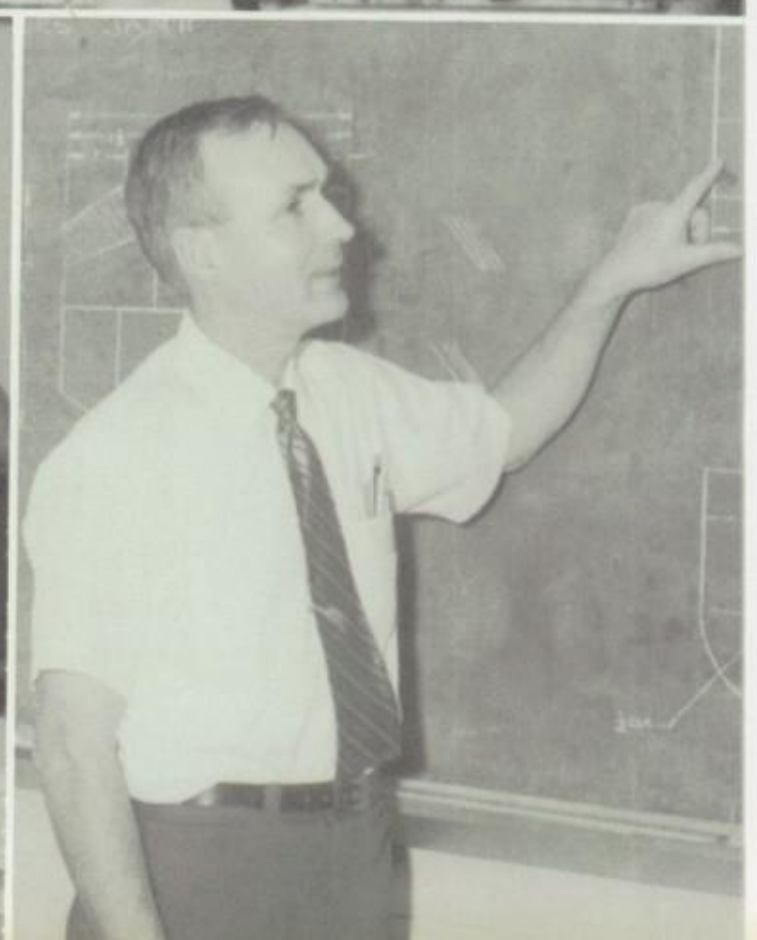

Physics and junior high mathematics were the subjects of ROBERT UHRICH. He was the seventh grade basketball coach and also a junior high football coach. Reading, basketball, and traveling were listed as Mr. Uhrich's hobbies.

Bowling, gardening, knitting, reading, and caring for animals are the favorite pastimes of VELETA ULERICK. Mrs. Ulerick was the business machines, secretarial practice, typing II, and bookkeeping I and II teacher. She was also sponsor of the Caston Comments and Exodus.

NICKI WARNER taught trigonometry, geometry, algebra II, and business math. In her free time, Miss Warner likes to work with anything dealing with music, and as a result of this she was a sponsor of the Caston Belles.

Algebra I and eighth grade math were taught by JAMES WOJAHN. Mr. Wojahn was also a sponsor for the freshmen class. In his leisure time he also ice-fishes and golfs.

LESTER YOUMANS instructed and gave aid to the students in drafting, electricity, and wood-working. When at home, Mr. Youmans tends garden and goes fishing.

Counselors Guide Students

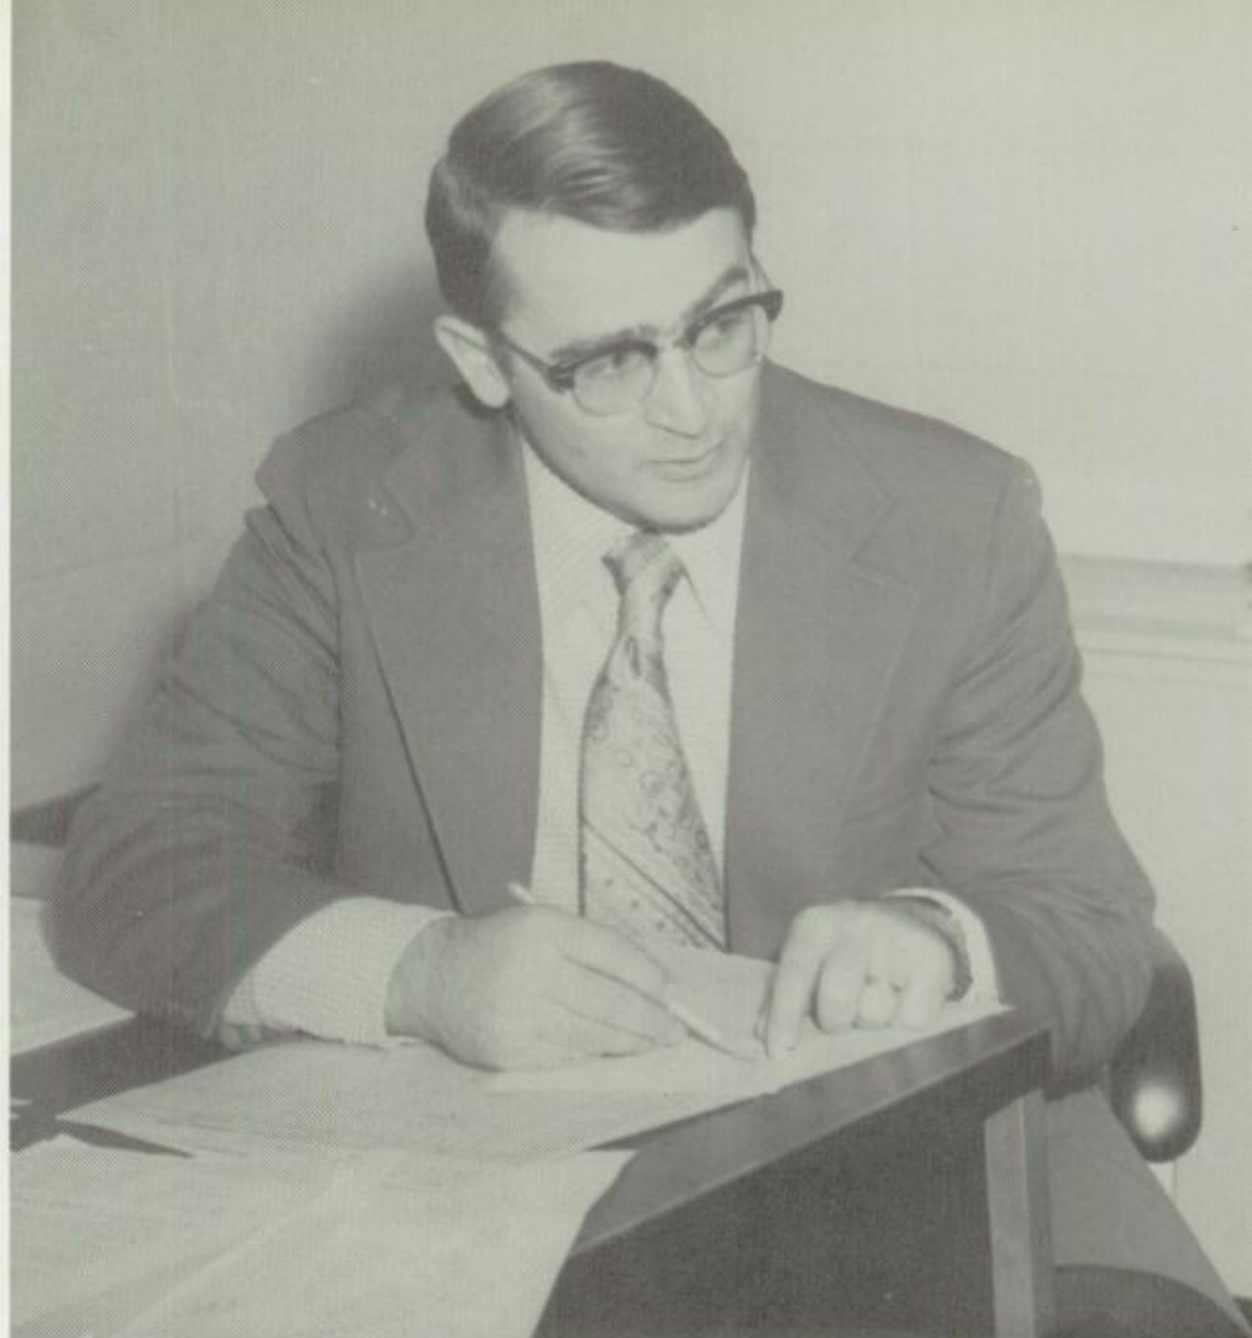

Dedicated to the purpose of helping, counselors offered services to all students.

All of us have difficulty searching for answers to the confusing queries of life. We all need someone to listen to them. The counselors realize this and are always eager to help if they can.

Miss Reser, a new addition, provided helpfulness to all youngsters requiring special attention. As a speech therapist, she has made our language more enjoyable for all.

Mr. Hapner keeps slim and trim by playing tennis. In the summer he demonstrates his ability for a green thumb by raising his own garden.

Miss Reser enjoys arts and crafts. She also enjoys sports.

Quiet Haven Is Found In Library

HALFORD POTTER
Library-Audiovisual Director

JEAN GRABLE, ALICE DAVIDSON
Library Aides

A combination of hard work and experience made Caston a clean and pleasant place to work and learn.

The audio-visual office, headed by Mr. Potter, was responsible for supplying the school with films and other equipment.

The librarians helped maintain a quiet haven for those needing to work. Students found the library a must for a quiet place to relax and enjoy life.

A Matter Of Life Or Death?

GLORIA SMITH
School Nurse

Filled with the joy of being an individual, Mrs. Smith helps to make life acceptable in bad times.

Emergency care for those ill or injured during the school day is given by the nurse and her helpers.

Checking on communicable diseases and screening for illness is important, as well as screening for hearing and vision.

Behind The Elementary Scene

Students seldom realize the amount of work that goes on "behind the scenes" at Caston. The elementary under the direction of Mr. Ogden kept everything running smoothly.

JOE OGDEN
Elementary Principal

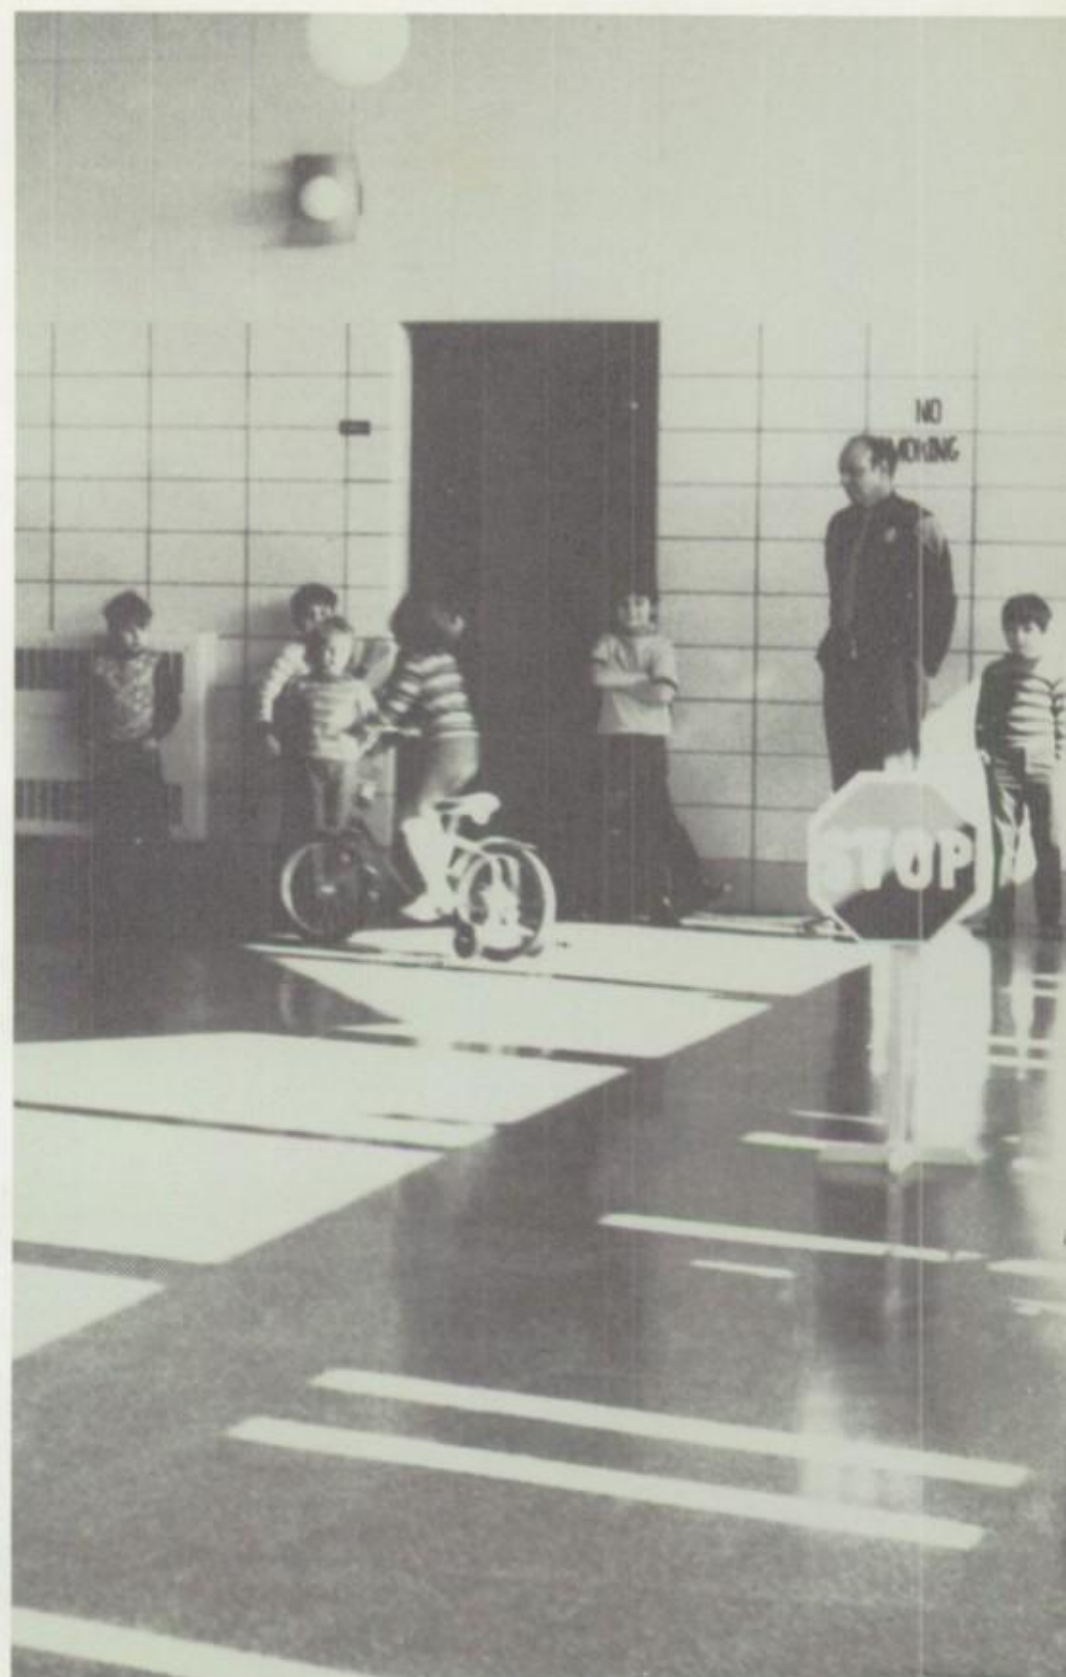

1st row: Joann Runkle, 1st grade; Florence M. Cunningham, 1st grade; Marjorie Zartman, 1st grade; Jane Wicoff, 1st grade. 2nd row: Sue Torgerson, 2nd grade; Madys Adkins, 2nd grade; Colleen Koebecke, 2nd grade; Christy Sweet, 3rd grade. 3rd row: Judy Uhrich, 3rd grade; Margaret DeWitt, 3rd grade; Gary Smith, 4th grade; Connie Houser, 4th grade. 4th row: Joe Moore, 4th grade; Nancy Douglass, 5th & 6th grade study hall; Mary Price, 5th & 6th grade math; Thomas Jones, 5th & 6th grade social studies. 5th row: William Vernon, 5th & 6th grade English & spelling; Judith Ludwig, 5th & 6th grade reading & writing. 6th row: Barton Ball, 5th & 6th grade science; Jack Wilbur, remedial reading.

Elementary Faculty Builds Future For Younger Generation

Student's Needs

The bookstore again acted as a handy aid to all students by supplying such needed utensils as paper, notebooks, pens, and pencils. Books for the rental system were handled through the bookstore. Mr. Cameron also took care of all the uniforms and gear for the Athletic Department.

The cooks, under the supervision of Mrs. Crain, again prepared nutritious and satisfying meals. The snack bar was also in use this year with more and different kinds of foods.

Services Often Overlooked

Getting up in the "middle" of the morning isn't easy, especially to drive a bus load of students to school! The bus drivers nevertheless faithfully provided transportation to and from school in both good and bad weather. To keep the buses in good condition, Mr. Lee was in constant demand for the maintenance of the buses.

The custodians were also in demand quite often. Under the supervision of Mr. Strasser the custodians kept our school clean and neat, and also kept all the many systems in good working condition.

Life Flows On Within You

"Zealous" was the description of Caston's faculty this past year. The energetic pillars of knowledge sparkled new-found interest in many courses. New ideas, new classes, new faces, and new methods of teaching made subjects more interesting.

Students often talk about the space between us all and the people who hide themselves behind a wall of illusion.

The 1972-1973 faculty were down to earth people, who were always there to help you find peace of mind and satisfaction.

The time will come when you will see we're all one and life flows on within you.

"Every beauty and greatness in this world is created by a single thought or emotion inside a man.

Everything we see today, made by past generations, was, before in appearance, a thought in the mind of a man or an impulse in the heart of a woman."
